THIS YEAR'S STYLUS IS DEDICATED TO MR. GRIFFITHS

This year's 1984 Stylus is dedicated to Mr. Griffiths for the eleven years "Doc" has worked on the yearbook at Glendale High School.

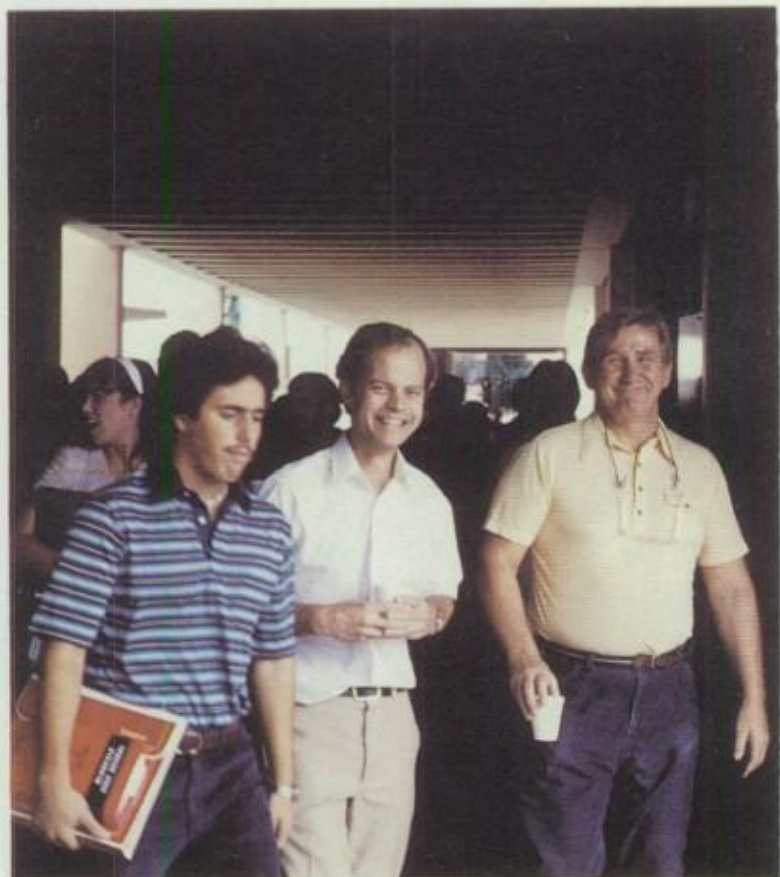

Born in Canada, Mr. Griffiths is a Canadian citizen. He graduated from Crescenta Valley High School in 1964. He was a photographer for the yearbook staff and a member of the CV track team; his coach was Mr. Barnes. Mr. Griffiths is also a graduate of the Art Center College of Design in Pasadena and he has a minor in mathematics from California State University, Los Angeles.

Mr. Griffiths is married and has three children, two boys and one girl. His children participate in soccer and Little League; "Doc" coaches both teams. His favorite hobby is growing bon-sai trees.

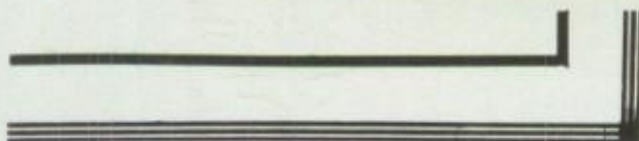

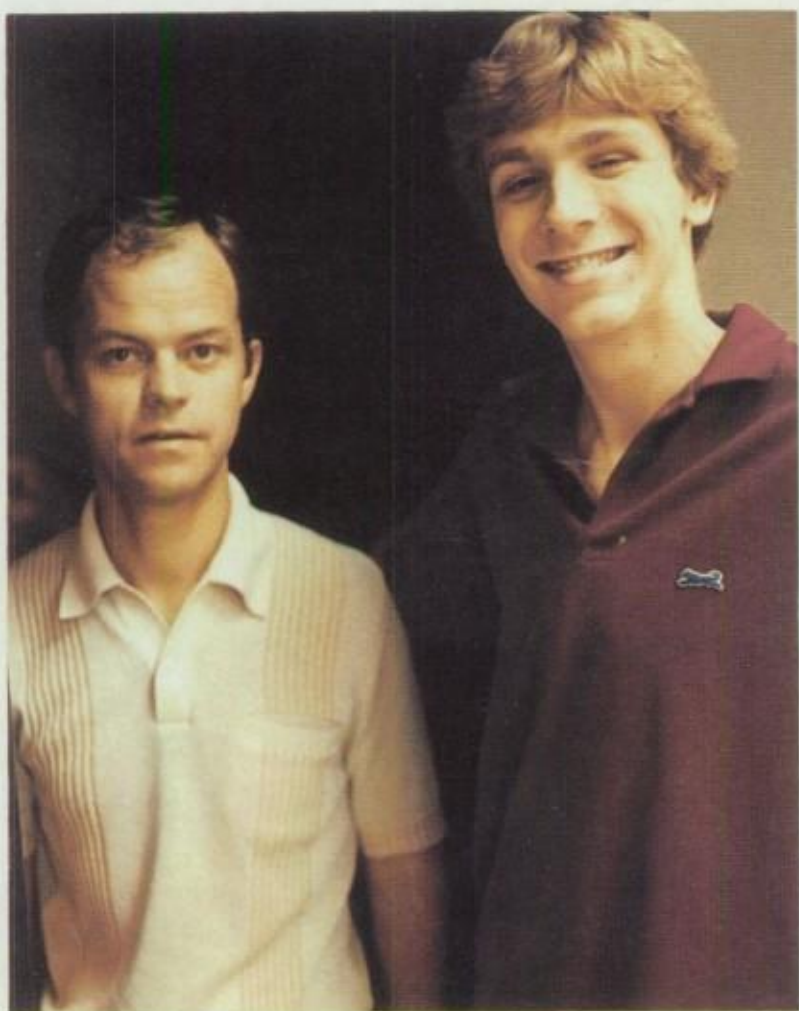

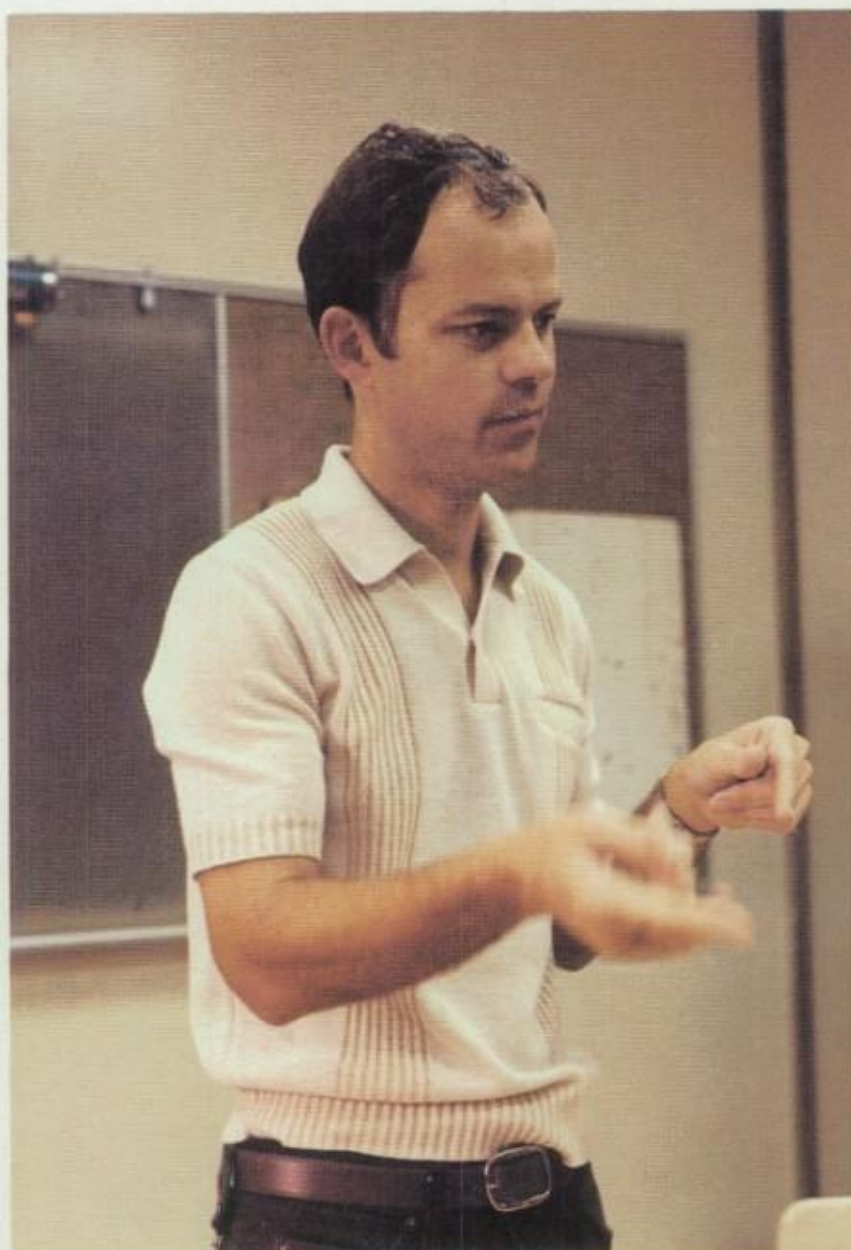

Mr. Griffiths is admired by students and teachers alike. "He is a brilliant person," Mr. van Bremen comments, and the Stylus staff feels the same.

Happy Hoppers At Pre-Pumpkin Boogie

A bizarre transformation overcame students at Glendale High on October the fifteenth; "brains" became bumble bees and "jocks" were turning into boys scouts. Everyone had an opportunity to become their fantasy at our annual Halloween Hop.

The setting was right-that is the gym was very dark - so bumping into Frankie the Frankensine or Wolfman was expected. A highlight of the evening came with the crowning of Count Dracula's court. "Raving" Randall Walton, "Petrifying" Peter Rosales, "Dangerous" Danny Palma, "Deadly" David Rosell, and the Count himself, the "Creepy" Carter Bucklin. This fourth year of the Pre-Pumpkin Boogie, the most creative and fun dance of the year, proved to be a howling success.

Norton Erbes and Debbie Bartley are living dolls.

Which Class Survived The Pre-Olympic Stunts At GHS?

"Let the Games Begin" was the theme of Girls League's 1983 Stunt Show. Competition between the three classes began at 6:30 PM in the auditorium on October the 13th. The evening began solemnly as the Sophomores marched in single-file chanting, "With Spirit and Stunt, 86 is in front." The seniors followed with, "84 Strives for More," and at last but not least, entered the juniors with, "When the Games Begin, 85 Will Win."

The evening preceeded with the seniors musical skit- a presentation of all three grades competing in Olympic events, each enhanced by the tune of a contemporary pop song. In the juniors' skit, the theme was energetically expressed as they danced to "The Big Game." Sophomores battled it out intellectually in their clever "Family Fued" skit. Each skit was proceeded by an entertaining curtain act. The sophomores presented a delightful rendition of "That's Entertainment." Pam Rosenblatt, Buffy Owen, and Tina Sproul danced and harmonized to "Mr. Sandman" for the Jrs. The Srs. curtain act had talented Betty Ng and Marie Mandolora singing a duet of "Shower the People You Love with Love". Leading and guiding their classes, the representatives were: Carla Gasmen, senior; Karen Dohr, junior; Giselle Chan, sophomores.

At the close of the show, the seniors won first place for the spirit competition and the SURVIVING JUNIORS WON the stunt competition. However the 70th year of our traditional show would be incomplete without mentioning the extremely masculine ladies who graced everyone with their presence that evening, modeling Vogue attire, "Flaming Red" lipstick, and stumbling in Mom's heels, GHS' "Real Men" added a fun and "different" dimension to this year's festivities. Stunts such as this immortalized Glendale High School's tradition of the Stunt Show.

Pete "Patty" Rosales and Carey "Carolina" Huffman showed their sweetness while the other fellas gazed on the All Girls Stunt Show.

"Mmm ... wa ... mmm ... uh ... wuhl#l%- ... !"

The Drama Department Was "Driven To Murder"

The fun and wild cast.

"Sheer ... Energy!"

The fall performance of 1983 was "Driven to Murder." The "who-done-it" mystery was performed by the drama department in the auditorium on December 9 and 10.

"Driven to Murder," directed by Mrs. Mary Casabona and student directed by Beth Laski, was an excellent representation of the fine talent present at Glendale High.

The play, a murder mystery, starred Robert O'Grady, Kirstin Malmquist, Michele Brodnax, Chris Staves, Stephanie Willet, Christie McCarthy, Brian Scarlett, Diego Bermudez, and Mary Fisher. The cast was small, and everyone worked very well together to make the suspense filled play a great success.

Mom/Daughter Dessert Tops The Evening With Laughter

"Queen of Hearts" was this year's theme for the annual Mother/Daughter Dessert. At 6:30, on February 8, mothers and daughters entered our very own Glendale High cafeteria for an evening filled with spirit, laughter, and fun.

Ice cream ala mode was served at 7:00 by handsome and courteous waiters. The waiters were Mike Aubrey, Matthew Sonny, Armando Berriz, Keith Thompson, John Brydon and Marty Avila. Following dessert, a fashion show was presented by J. Valentines. Girl's league board members as well as their mothers modeled the attire. From Guess jeans and Espirit shirts to formal, sophisticated, evening gowns from Jobynas, the show was spectacular. Mother/Daughter Dessert, a tradition of many years was organized by Girl's League Advisor, Miss Joy Uzzell and Girl's League President, Susie Yang. All will agree the evening was a complete success and many look forward to it next year!

Jrs. Promenade With Sweet Dreams Of Moonlight And Roses

One moonlit night, at the stroke of eight, footsteps, laughter, and festive sounds echoed throughout Glendale's girl's gym. Lovely lasses flitted through the gym amid glitter and roses with handsome lads in becoming attire.

Decorations of an elegant flare led the eye from wall to ceiling, and quaint melodies flowed forth as the New Romantic Beat D.J. Service selected records of highest quality to which all might dance. The lovely Laura Rogers was chosen queen of the court, escorted by the gallant Richard Grande.

What class! One reliable source exclaimed, "The Jr. Prom this year, especially the decorations, was one of the best I've ever seen!" And others agreed: "It was gorgeous!" Yes, the guests went all out. Limosines, tuxedos, and long dresses sparked the night with life.

At midnight all departed, smiles yet remaining on their lips, and sweet memories lingering in their hearts.

ACTIVITIES

The Class Of 1984 Swept 2 Out Of 3

Oratorical began during a time when "forensics" or speech arts were popular throughout Southern California. This is Glendale High's 75th annual tradition that is still holding strong. Glendale High immediately produced winners in various competitions. The first Oratorical was held at the "Harvard Street Plant" in 1910. Originally, booths were constructed by each class with the themes of the speeches carried out in colorful decorations. It was not until 1923 that tableau were made a part of the competition. As the years passed, many innovative changes took place.

Eventually, the Oratorical progressed to what it is today: a class competition judged on speech, tableau, and spirit.

Marie M., Patty M., Lisa D., Cheryl F. and Clark blew away!!!

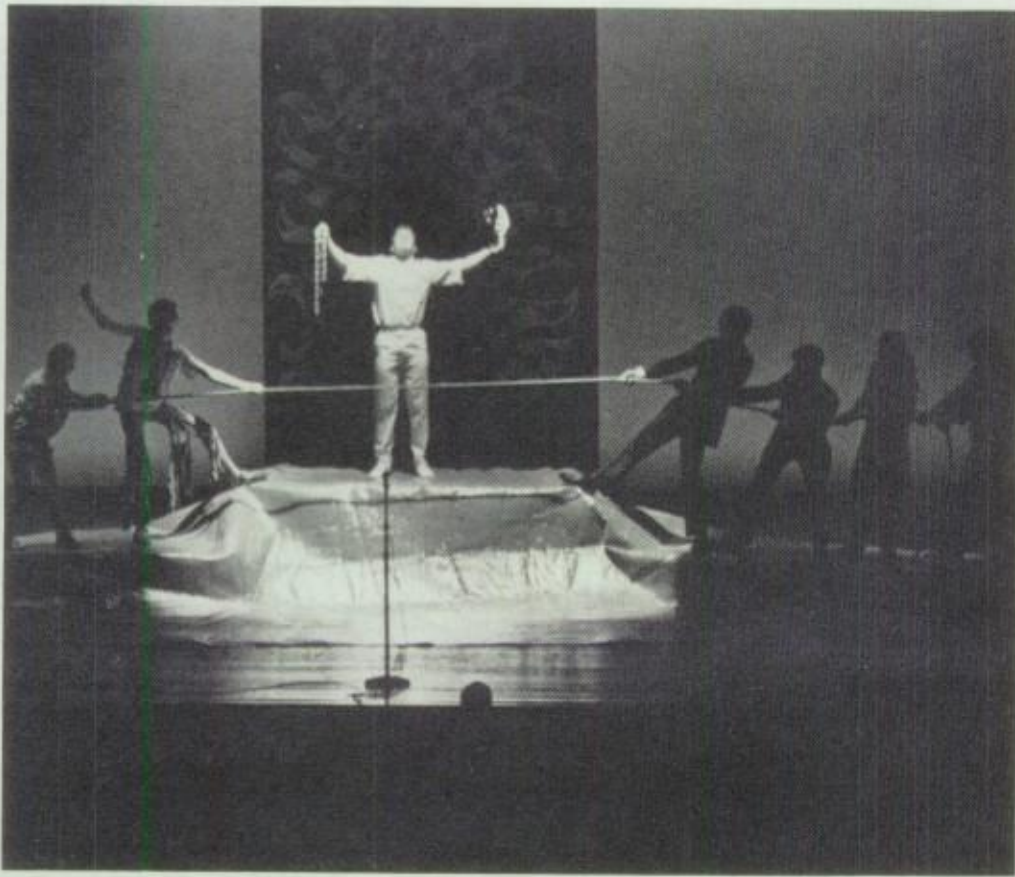

The order of class presentations was decided by drawing lots, the Juniors drew first position, the Sophomores second and the Seniors will be last. The master of the ceremonies was Beth Laski. Leading the Junior Class was President Sophia Hayes and Joal Ryan the class speaker "Democracy: Preserved and Maintained". Sophomore Class President, Terence Mc Kiernan survived proudly with their class. Their class speaker was Gregory Dallas, doing "Where Do I Belong". With handsome Clark Peterson, the senior class President, the Class of '84 took victory in the tableau competition. The excellent representation of the senior class speaker, Kyanh Tonnu has brought the senior class another victory. Special thanks to all the judges, advisors that participated.

A Cappella's "Magical Mystery Tour" Stuns All

The evening was definitely a night to remember!! Sixty-five A Cappella and Chamber Choir students all dressed in black tails, performed to the latest hits.

Preparation for "Magical Mystery Tour" began in summer of eighty-three; when A Cappella students gathered at Mr. De Lange's house to listen to possible songs. After critiquing various types of music, the students finalized the selection by September.

By January, Cheryl Symthe had began choreographing the number "Cats" and Sheryl Carlin helped her choreograph the closing number, "Dancing in Heaven." Jennifer Berry also choreographed two numbers which she performed; "All Over the World" and "Fascination."

One of the main purposes for putting on "Magical Mystery Tour" was in hopes of reaching enough profit to help A Cappella and Chamber Choir students reduce the amount of tour expenses. This year's tour site is fabulous, exciting Mexico City. "The best thing about Unconcert was the friendships it formed from working together," says Juliet Beitler.

Cupid's Arrows Strike At GHS Valentines Dance

On the tenth of February, the beautiful red hearted decorated ball room, otherwise known as the Glendale High's gymnasium, was filled with love and laughter. This Sophomore sponsored Valentines Dance of "Modern Love" was especially romantic and a ton of fun for everyone.

The infamous Gino's Music Company Disc Jockey provided the most outrageous sounding systems. The new wave, punk rock, pop, progressive music, and the most upbeat dance sights and sounds had kept the couples boogieing on the floor all night long. The sophomores have not only raised a large amount of money for their fund but they have also raised a sensational memory for many.

Music Sings Their Way Through A Busy Year

Among their many activities this year, music has sung for various groups during Christmas, performed the famous Unconcert, and gone on tour. Mexico City was their target, and to raise money, they sold soft soap, magazines, chocolate bars, and rummage. How did they survive? Well, President, Juliet Beitler, attributes their sanity to organization: calendars, schedules, and lots of discipline. Mr. Delange's latest technique in establishing discipline is sticking the guilty talkers with dots which are to be worn all period. (Special thanks to Sheryl Carlin for her great accompaniment and help).

THE GHS BAND CANNOT BE BEAT AS THEY MARCH THROUGH AN UNBEATABLE YEAR

The GHS Band this year was definitely one of top quality. The drum section, in fact, has been noted as the best in this area. But, of course, no GHS student needs to be reminded of the band's talent. They've demonstrated their skill in half-times, assemblies, the Round-Up, pep rallies, and Spirit-a-Rama, just to name a few of their many performances. And those at Dodger's Stadium on "High School Band Day" were also privileged to hear the band's unbeatable beat.

Also, GHS has had the grand pleasure of witnessing Nicole Alessi perform as Baton Twirler—a new addition this year. Her twirling talent played an important part in half-times and pep rallies.

But in surviving such a vigorous schedule, band members learned to be punctual, to be disciplined, and very importantly, to keep their shoes white by avoiding horse manure during parades. (The band would like to thank Barry Silverman and Sgt. "I'm not a sir, I'm a sergeant" Floyd for all of their help and dedication.)

Tall Flags Are Not Short On Spirit

Tall Flags have done much competing, performing, and practicing. Asked how they survived such a schedule, they initially replied, "we don't," but continued to describe some of the little nuisances tolerated in a Tall Flag's career.

Firstly, wearing curlers during practice and applying make-up in the dark locker room have caused serious cosmetic problems for the girls. But probably the most embarrassing situation was forgetting lollipops, and-brace yourself-braziers. Yay Flags!

Banners Make Their First Year A Great One

You may have noticed that, unlike every other year there only appeared Tall Flags, Songs, Yells, Dynos, Sht. Flags, and Band, this year was notably different. Adding to the already awesome combination of spirit leaders, Banners have brightened the field with the glowing and victorious letters which spell out Glendale. Though their natural talent may have made the Banners' performances look easy, their job was one which really required quite a bit of know-how.

They may not have made it without a few essentials: 1) Johnson and Johnson's madical tape was to be kept continuously on hand to re-outline the banner shields; 2) the bright shingles which composed the letters were known to occasionally fall off, making extra shingles a necessity. 3) fiberglass glue was needed to simply keep those banners together; 4) and, last but definitely not least, what would the girls have done without their donuts and milk, or Westwood weekends? Good job, girls!

Homecoming Dance: GHS Boogies Somewhere 'Over The Rainbow'

November 5, 8:00 P.M., at Glendale College, and over the rainbow, the Homecoming Dance began. To fit the lively mood, multi-colored balloons decorated the room and the picture background seemed to lead to a castle somewhere at the end of the rainbow. John Logic, from K-ROQ, D.J.'ed the dance, elevating the atmosphere even more. And in the midst of all the excitement, Kim Haase was crowned Queen of the Homecoming Court. Was the dance a success? "It was the funnest dance I've been to," said Jamie Venable; and Bich-Nga Nguyen agreed, "It turned out to be very successful."

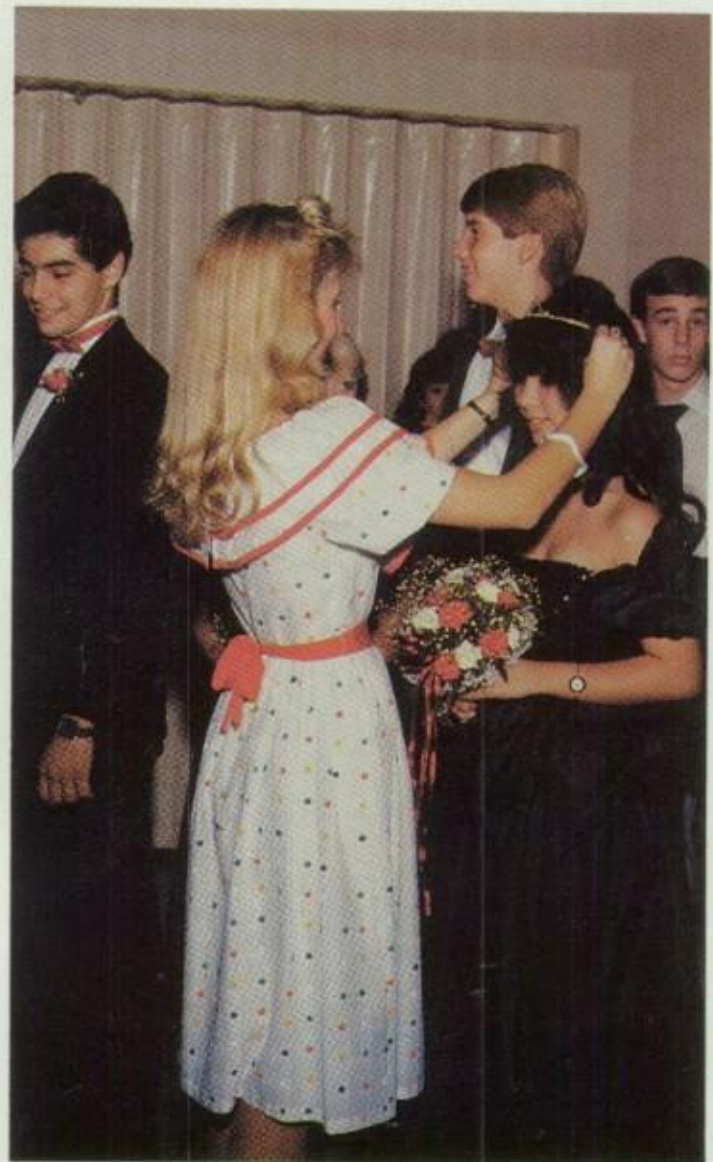

Brendon Bates, where's your date?

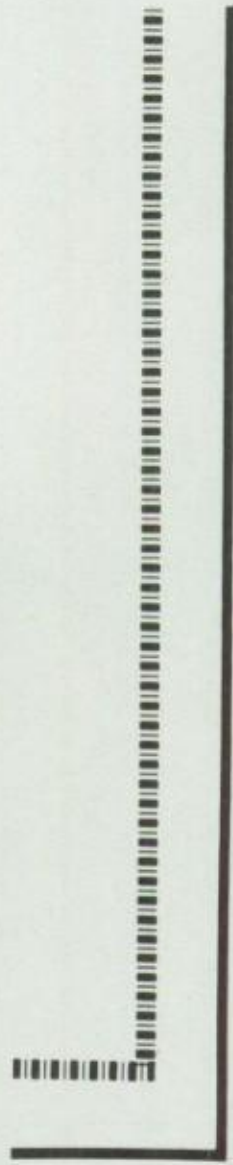

A bunch of groovy Glendalians enjoying life's hop and bop.

J.D., Melanie, Nancy, and Darrel pose pretty on this special night.

Sonja is caught red-handed stealing Lisel's crown.

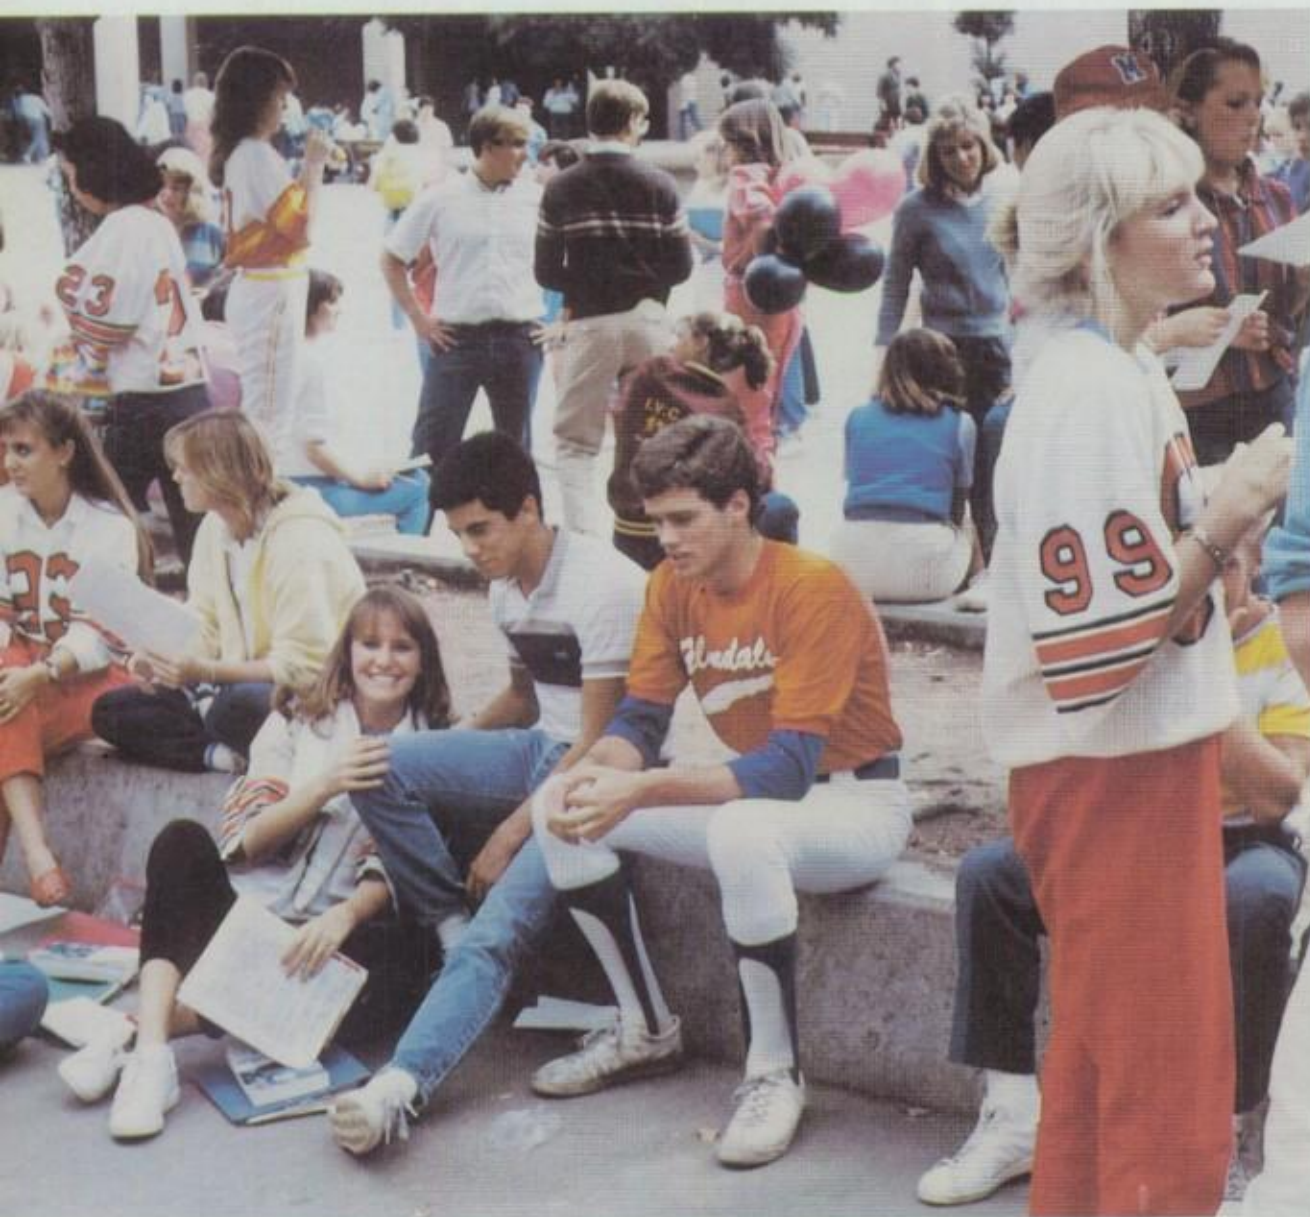

We are the wild and crazy Greeks!

The girl's scream with laughter at the prospect of being ruled by men.

Every once and a while, Glendale High is known to overdo the sporty look of the 80's.

Homecoming Week Brings Spirit To A Peak

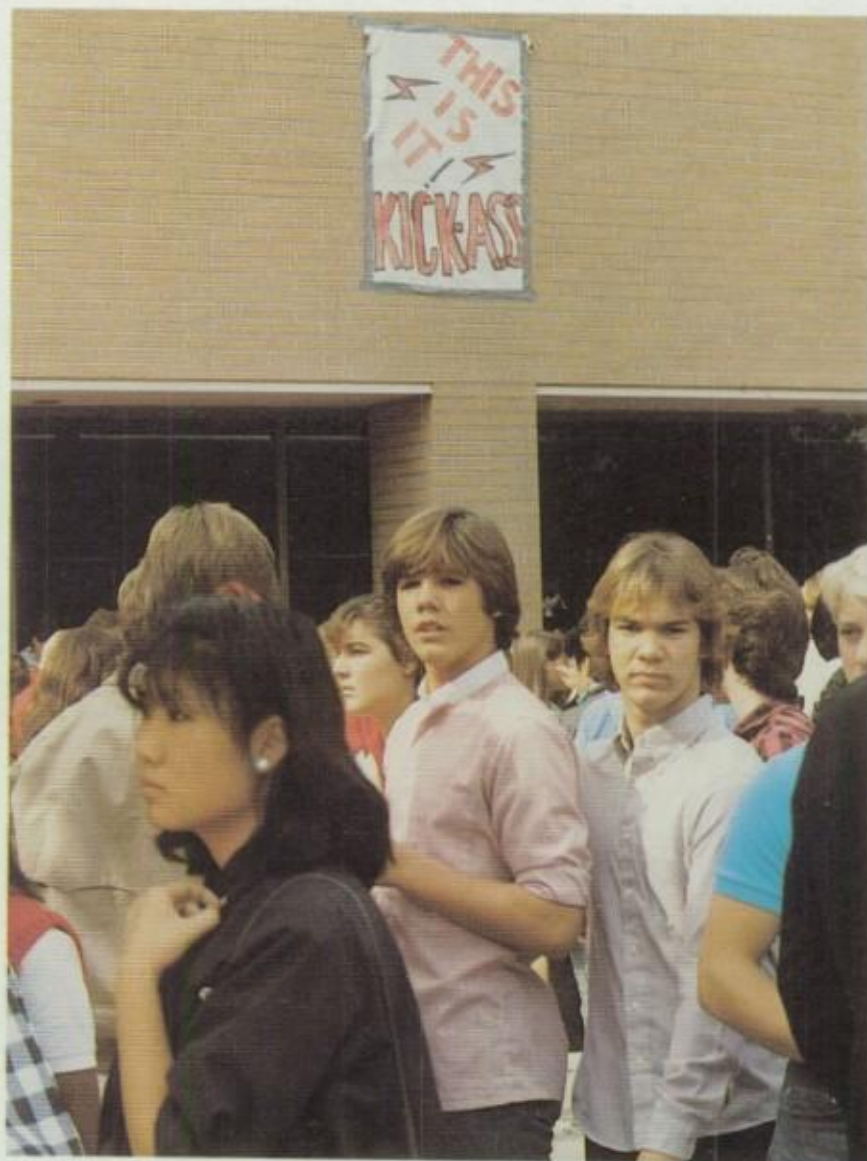

This year's 4-day Beat-Hoover Week began with College Dress-Up Day, a day in which many participated by wearing sweatshirts and colors of their favorite colleges and universities. And Tuesday was Toga Day, plus a Petagogue Auction. The pep squad, dressed as ancient Romans, were sold to eager buyers who were then entitled to have command over their slaves for the day. And next came Sports Day. Baseball, soccer, football, and water polo players, to name just a few, populated the school. Supervision was provided by Bob Mulcahey, dressed as a referee. And finally, Thursday was the big day. Spirited students wore red and black as they experienced the pep assembly - outdoors. All cheered as a sky diver appeared out of the blue (literally) and landed in the middle of the football field to present Kim Haase with her Queen's ring. Even Hoover's beautiful Homecoming Court was present, visions of loveliness, with the overwhelmingly-gorgeous Scott Eiland as queen. The day was made complete with the Beat-Hoover Carnival, which took place in the quad amidst the various goodies being sold by the clubs, and the pom-poms, sold by the junior class. These pom-poms were great for demonstrating Glendale's immense spirit at the big game.

Look! It's a bird! It's a plane! No, it's the parachute man.

You can just see that look of rivalry in their eyes and the game is only hours away.

HAPPINESS IS...

Getting a legal parking space...
 Fridays...
 A decent prom date...
 B-day greetings in the quad...
 Winning that certain election...
 Mr. Gallagher...
 Beach days in the quad when you really can't be there...
 The day AFTER the SAT...
 Getting more than 4 hours of sleep...
 Half-days...
 Knowing people care...
 That RARE day when you had NO homework...
 Extended snacks...
 Knowing you passed your finals...
 That one special friend...

The final day of high school is approaching quickly, and with graduation comes the joy of relief and the sorrow for the memories we leave behind. Although we are about to enter a world full of opportunities, none of us will ever forget the memories we have shared here at G.H.S. What will happen to our friends as we all go our separate ways? Can the distance and changing lifestyles affect the friendships we have so carefully molded for so long? As we walk down the halls and look at the empty classrooms for the last time, flashbacks come to us that will never leave our minds. June approached so quickly, and all we have to take with us are our memories. Of course we can always come back to say "hello," but it will never be quite the same. Glendale High has given us the strength not to think this is the end, but to KNOW this is only the beginning.

Stephanie Older talks to her fellow Juniors while ignoring the Sophomore tag along.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test is one of the most important events for the college-minded student. This test which determines the future of tomorrow's adults takes less than four hours to complete. Preparation for the SAT started early for most people in their Junior year. Taking a PSAT in November indicated one's potential score for the actual SAT. If one did bad there were testing courses which prepared Juniors in studying habits and test-taking methods to improve in time for the big test. And for those who couldn't get enough, there were a ubiquitous amount of books on the SAT filled with a myriad amount of tests, vocabulary, suggestions and methods to satisfy even the most avid SAT fan. And if after all that studying, one still did poorly there is another year to take the test as most people take it a second time. And Juniors have all summer to study for it again.

The Junior year can be described as the most boring year in high school for a student. Unlike the sophomore who experience a great deal of excitement because of entering a new school or the seniors who get effervescent over the fact of leaving high school and establishing themselves in society, the juniors are in the middle where dullness of life and hatred of school is the norm for the average junior student. When students of the eleventh year were asked how they felt about the ending year, one commented that there weren't enough school activities, another said that being a Junior meant boredom was a way of life, and another listed a profused amount of derogatory remarks about the passing year and the school. But to end on a high note, another year has terminated which means within a few short months, the lowly Junior class will be elevated to the pride and presitige of the school, the Senior Class.

MEMORIES OF:

Thinking you would never find your classes ...
Surviving driver's training without a crash? no? ...
Jamming your locker ...
Being called "a scrub" ...
The stimulator, I mean simulator ...
Being obnoxious (Greg Dallas) ...
Your first dance ...
Getting stuck with physical conditioning ...
Going off campus for lunch ...
Feeling "lost in space" your first day of school ...
Your first football game ...
Mr. Peirce ...
Finally getting your driver's license!!! ...
Dreaming of being a SENIOR ...

Being a sophomore opens the door to a whole new environment. No longer are you the "big cheese" of Jr. High, but the little "scrubs" of High School. Well, you've survived your first year of High School. Next year you'll be juniors, and after that SENIORS. There are many new friends and memories from your sophomore year that you will have not only through High School, but through the rest of your life. Cherish and appreciate the time you have left because it goes by all too fast.

Stylus Staff Survives

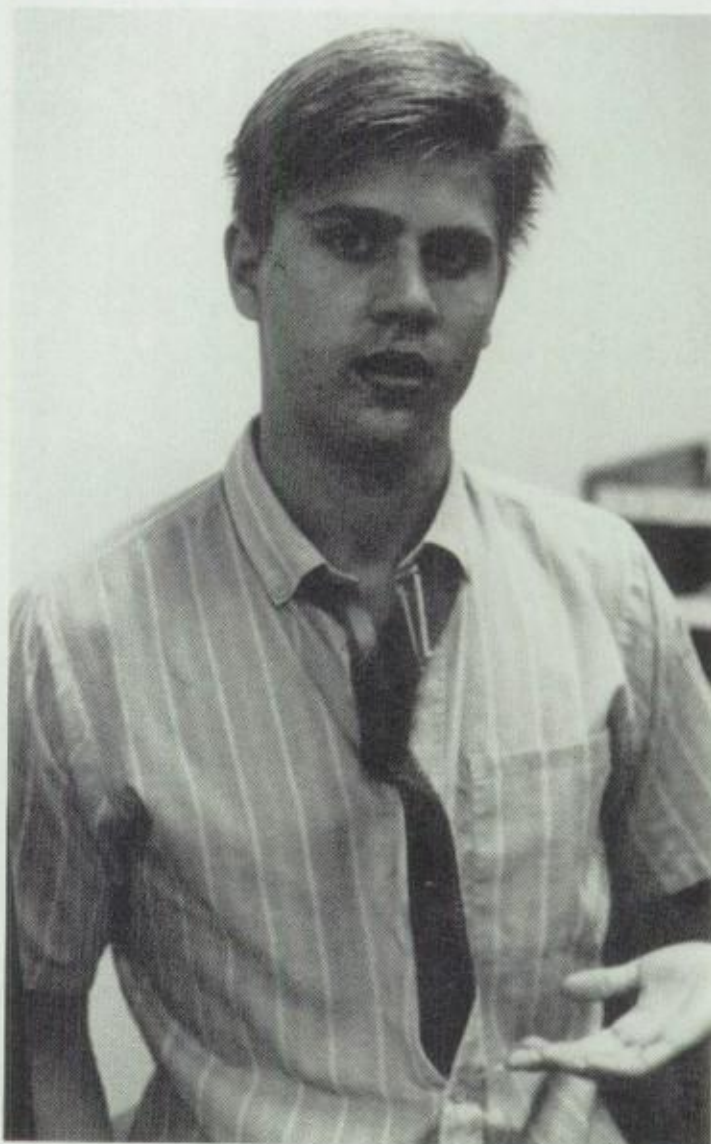

The 1983/84 Stylus Staff was unsurpassed this year in ingenuity, creativity, and dependability. They were, to put it frankly, the epitome of all the past and future yearbook staffs. Each member joined together to accomplish one goal, making this yearbook the best ever. The yearbook could not have been put together, however, without the leadership of their big toe, editor, Sue Spain. She simply created an atmosphere that made staff members want to work hard on the yearbook or die. Credit should be given to photographers: Randy Walton, Clark Petersen, Doug Adams, Kevin Potter, and Julie Giammarino. In the Sports Department we had John Brydon and Keith Thompson. Tracey Marquardt and Caroline Cate were responsible for Ads. Nancy Roberts and Julie Giammarino did an excellent job on Faculty. Sara Smith accomplished Color Activities all by herself. Kenny Wang and Cheryl Friedman combined to do our Senior, Junior, and Sophomore Sections respectively. All Patty Mathieu had to do was coordinate the pictures and photographers (It was harder then it sounded.) Ratna Anagol was the Stylus Stripper; actually, she did the line art work. Bessie Mantas did a remarkable job in closing color. Eunice Ahn was fantastic as financial advisor. And finally, Elizabeth Mogster assisted Jamie Venable, the hardest (?) working member on the staff, in Organizations.

Journalism Is Successful Again!

The hard work and determination of the 1983-84 Explosion staff has preserved the outstanding quality of all previous years. Meeting one deadline after another, these individuals managed to explicitly express their objective ideas as well as accurate accounts of school news. This staff's dedication to the world of Journalism has inspired them to produce a nationally honored paper. Yet without the supervision of Mrs. Davey, the Explosion paper would not have been published once every three weeks. The involved members of this production journalism staff are: Editor/Laurie Betlach; Assoc. Editor/Julia Kim; Sports/Chris Bickerstaff, Chris Prampin Business/Stam Ho, Liz Lesly; Entertainment/Christine Hyun Editorial/Liz Miller; Art/Hratch Kupelian; Staff/Angela Grim, Annabella Gualdoni, James Huang, Quentin Hugh-Sam, Chiena Kim, Helen Kim, Tom Druesson, Beth Laski, Natasha Mahnovski, Melanie Mawhorter, Mandy Murphy, Michele Shigok, Joanne Wang, Nanette Yanover; Photography/Karen Vida.

Club Involvement Is The Key

The 1983/84 Armenian Club did a fine job this year as a representative of Glendale High School. The club was quite active in many of the campus activities. They had fund-raising booths at the Beat Hoover Carnival and the PNMA Carnival. The club sponsored dances to interest club members who really wanted to get involved at GHS. The club was led by their active and creative president, Silva Bilemjian. She was responsible for organizing all of the club's activities. We would like to give special thanks to club sponsor, Mrs. Mahseredjian, for all of her support. The club was very proud of all of their achievements.

ART HISTORY

Club members are: (President) Kristin Malmquest; Carla Angela; Marta Barns; Lenett Fisher; Russell Flett; Noel McClure; Martha Rankin; Marit Woo; Greg William.

Educating The School In The Arts

The 1983/84 Art/History Club attempted to give Glendale High School students an appreciation for art that might otherwise have never been attained. Fine Arts Week was a classic example of the club's drive to educate the student body on all modes of the arts such as Roman Cothic sculpture as well as finger painting. The main purpose of the club was to teach club members the history of many of the world's art cultures. A quote from an aspiring, artistical student stated, "Success, wealth, fame, and prestige all pass with time but art will forever remain a part of society." In retrospect, the club definitely aided in educating the students on the many different arts.

COMPUTER

Active Club Members: Grace Kim, club president; Randolph Arpea; Alex Avanesian; Vahid Babaeian; Tuan Dhoi Bui; Omar Busailah; Mindy Callahn; Sung Chang; Tai Chang; Jae Chan; Brian Chang; Van Vi Chau; Camilo Canlobo; Li Chow; Thein Duong; Armen Gharabegian; Meyma Gomez; Jonathan Gutierrez; Lisa Hong; Soon Won Han; Stephen Han; Ann Heyler; Dung Huynh; Simon Dim; Kang Kim; Joo Kim; Joo Kang; Noel Lim; Young Lim; Ana Lee; Cecilia Lopez; Woo Moon; Wong Moon; Arti Morey; Thanh Nguyen; Hagop Ouzounian; Hoa Pho; Ken Potter; Map Pho; Ciel Perla; Micheal Schembri; Eric Saakian; Howarda Sefain; Hellen Sipsas; Long Trinh; Dennis Tray; Rainier Villagracea; Dung Juong; Hellen Yoo.

Aiding The School Is The Club's Goal

The Computer Club was one of the largest and quite possibly the most productive of the many clubs on campus in 1984. The club did not simply have an enormous group of members, but they were all very active in learning about computers. President Grace Kim remarked, "The Computer Club is a fun club where students can expand their knowledge of computers." Other office holders included their candid vice-president, Hellen Sipsas, and their compatible treasurer, Ann Heyler. The club was very active in many of the school festivals and their Video Day. The Computer Club was also very helpful in computing fund raisers for some of the sports programs as well as compiling statistics helpful to the school. In conclusion, the 1983/84 Computer Club can look back on the year with a sense of accomplishment.

CHESS

Club members are: (President) Nathan Coddling; Mike Duron; Jae Chon; David Convad; Drazen Fabris; Neyma Gomes, v.p.; Devin Green; Kang Kim; Joo Kim; Tam Leang; Ronald Minassian; Alain Navarro; Hagop Ouzourian; Mauricio Vanegas; Sung Wooh; John Yoo.

Chess Club Has A Successful Year

The Chess Club had one of its most successful years since its founding. They compiled an incredible record in chess matches with opponents outside of Glendale High School. The club also competed in many interschool chess matches with prizes and trophies awarded. The Chess Club thrived to be one of the best in the school under their president, Nathan Coddling. Vice-president Neyma Gomes and Treasurer Alain Navarro were responsible for setting up match dates and collecting club fees and dues. Many members were both outstanding chess players as well as outstanding students. Many of these members included: Tom Kang, Kong and Joo Kim, Ronald Minassian, Johnny Yoo and Jae Chon. The club was very proud of all of its players and the many awards they achieved.

DEBATE

Striving For Excellency

The 1983-84 Speech/Debate club has managed to survive since the 1940's. Over the years, this club has participated in major Debate competitions, and Speech Festivals, in addition, they have supported Glendale High through fundraisers, and school festivals.

However, without the aid of club president John Yang, and advisor Mr. Wood this years Debate Club would have never returned. Now, the club is active with school and outside festivals. They strive to achieve excellency through oral expression of daily contraversies. Although they have not won any awards yet, the club has remained dedicated and enthusiastic.

DRAMA

Expressing Their Participation

The Drama Club was probably one of the most fun loving clubs on the campus this year. They participated in many activities such as Fine Arts Week, school Carnivals, and candy sales. The money they raised in their sales helped pay for many of the expenses involved with drama. The club was led by veteran thespians Beth Laski and Brian Scarlett. The whole club was involved in such plays as "Driven to Murder" and participated in the Fall Festival. As a whole, the Drama Club had a very successful year as a prime representative of Glendale High School.

GERMAN

Club members are: (President) Heidi Spassmachen; Fritz Apfel; Stan Arschloch; Mohelle Bilder; Elke Decke; Lisa Praten; Tini Glockle; Friedrich Heyler; Anika Heyler; Babone Kneabel; Johanna Knoez; Monika Liebling; Wolfgoing Miiller; Kleines Madchen; Micheal Radler; Marcel Rosen; Hans Sebastien; Gabi Spazle; Helga Spass; Vrsufs SpeiseKarte; Urgan Schweiss; Oliver Schmutzig; Roger Smitgal; Thea Stuck; Zeigdeiws Voge; Reinhart Wasser

Germans Add To School Festivities

If you want to be in a fun club next year, the German Club is for you. These people are crazy. You cannot find a more festive group of people than the German Club during Oktoberfest. It was hard to believe that they found time to study. Anyways, the club brought more fun, spirit, and class to Glendale than we have seen in a long time. They were very active in International Day, Beat Hoover Carnival, P.T.S.A, Roundup, and P.N.M.A Week. They were also quite active in community Oktoberfests. The club was led by President Heidi Dohr and sidekicks Wes Streubing, Dan Hodgson, and Carey Huffman. All in all, the club had a rowdy year and was very proud of everything that they accomplished.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Photography's New Beginning

Despite the fact that the Photography Club was born just last year, it has simply been an incredible asset to Glendale High School. With its membership steadily on the rise, the club served the school by taking pictures for many different events but also was involved in helping its members develop photographic skills as well as broaden their knowledge of the trade. Among the club's many activities was a trip to the Art Center College of Design and several photo competitions. The club was led by founder and president, Clark Peterson. All of the club's activities were scheduled by this enterprising young man. But all of the above would not have been possible without the help and support of their club sponsor, Mr. Dennis Van Bremen.

PEP

Club members are: (Club President) Tina Wiltsee; Tish Arpea; Kristin Beaton; Mindy Callahan; Lisa Carvalho; Mary Ann Damdo; Tiffany Damron; Lessie Dolentino; Greg Dallas; Angela Grim; Karin Gansson; Annabella Gualdoni; Tricia Heart; Grace Hernandez; Sophia Hayes; Stephanie Hayes; Vickie Junger; Denise Kemp; Anna Lee; Evette Lischer; Arti Morey; Noelle McClure; J.P. McManus; Patty Moreno; Liz Miller; Melisa Miller; Mandy Murphy; Teresa Nance; Lynn Nguyen; Marie Panlilio; Irene Quinters; Seannie Rhee; Ana-Lisa Reinaso; Kristin Roth; John Shabran; Mindy Sierer; Liz Sciaroni; John Terzian; Crissy Varkey; Holly Weberg; Kristin Western; Hellen Yoo; John Yoo; John Yang.

Giving Glendale Some Class

A school without a Pep Club is a school without spirit. The Pep Club at Glendale High School this year was definately the backbone of spirit on campus. They were the motivaters at all of the dreadful football games. During those football games, club members cheered their hearts out, and held their heads high, giving the school that special touch of class. By the time of basketball and baseball season, The Pep Club was so psyched that they were practically a part of the games. The club was led by the very talented president, Christina M. Wiltsee. Other office holders included: Lisa Reinoso, treasurer; Mandy Murphy, secretary; Karin Mansson, vice-president. And of course, you just cannot say enough about their club sponsor, Miss C. Collins. Through her sacrifice of her time and energy, the credit she receives is definately deserved. The club also took special part in our Homecoming and PNMA Carnivals. All of the sports programs would like to take their hats off to the outstanding Pep Club.

Meeting The Needs Of Others

The 1983/84 Service Club consisted of many of the humanitarians present at our school. The club helped out many of our community's most neediest people. In the Fall Semester, the club had a Christmas party for the children connected with the Salvation Army. The kids were really appreciative of the club's efforts. During the second semester, the Service Club visited convalescent homes, brightening up the elderly people's lives. The club was organized by club president, Nicole Alessi, whom many say was the best service representative ever. Mrs. Brice was the club sponsor, and many thanks must be given to her for all her time and effort. As a whole, the year proved to be very successful for all of the thoughtful members of the club.

SCIENCE

Expanding Their Knowledge

The Science Club deals with young people who have a desire to learn about the physical and biological aspects of the world around us. It does not require anyone to be an expert in science, but just people who are interested. The 1983-84 Science Club has managed to retain this understanding thru the many years. Therefore, their enthusiasm motivates this club to plan and organize trips which enrich their knowledge of Science. Such trips as Biology stations, observatories, and even backpacking have been suggested, and even accomplished. Yet, without the advisor, Mr. Lockhead's enthusiasm has motivated the members as well. In addition to Mr. Lockhead's inspiration, the president, Philip Gordon's organization has established a sound foundation for a club.

SCHUSSBOOMER

An Outstanding Year For GHS Skiers

The 1983/84 Ski Club had to travel leaps and bounds this year to participate in their fondest hobby. Due to the lack of snow in beautiful and sunny Southern California, the club had to travel many hours to get to the snow. Although most of the club members did not have the chance to improve on their skiing abilities, they all improved drastically on their storytelling abilities. Chris Whytock, you are a madman. Remember when you and the other club members were skiing the Swiss Alps in fifty below weather and you all were naked? You guys are crazy. The Stylus Staff wants to ski with your club. All kidding aside, the club did find snow to compete in races by this years newly formed Ski Team. They were led by Olympic hopefuls for the 1988 games, Chris Whytock and Terence M. McKiernan. The team completed a respectable showing up at the Mammoth Races.

Active club members: (President) Chris Whytock; Al Atamian; Miriael Backm; Robyn Bartley; Bob Bickerstaff; Muna Busailah; Omar Busailah; Mindy Callahan; Todd Calsyn; Diana Campbell; Jose Canlobo; Rafail Cardona; Jogn Castle; Giseue Chan; Suzy Chere; Dok Choe; Mark Christensen; Jogn Conte; Greg Dallas; Liga Danenberg; Rachel Dubria; James Dwyer; Ward Frye; Stacia Gault; Julie Giammarino; Sherri Gobble; Armen Gregorian; Jennifer Hagerman; Tricia Hart; Sophia Hates; Rob Helphand; Todd Hext; Andrea Hill; Hong Jogn; Razmik Ignatian; Don Inzunza; Son Jon; Brian Kagan; Jennifer Keen; Paul Kempler; Cary Kern; Tracy Kraatz; Tammi Lehman; Jimmy Liu; Trevor Lysek; Raymond Mathieu; Abby McIntyre; Terry McKerhan; Alexia Moody; Zac Morrison; Daw Muff; Phuong Nguyen; Ian Olhey; Kristin Paepke; Shawn Parkin; Michele Petralia; Qayle Pfacht; Vahe Pirjanian; Janette Reedy; Hyuk Ro; Chris Roe; Arnel Salvatierra; Christin Thai; Tina Trydal; Julie VanSlooten; Paul Van Slooten; Andrew Vournas; Joanne Wang; Rober Wormald; Betsy Whytock; Tanya Wolfe; Doug Verkes.

Bring People Together

Although the Spanish Club got off on a slow start, this year resolved into one of the most energetic clubs on Glendale High's campus. Throughout the years this club has always provided an ethnic look at the Spanish culture, and encouraged students to use the language more fluently. But, this idea has slightly changed to fit the needs of the 80's. Today, the 1983-84 Spanish Club represents a group of people willing to understand a society that is rapidly growing. Therefore, their special trips involve intermingling with other Spanards to promote unity among the two races. For example, they have visited the famous Olvera Street, and San Fernando Dr. In addition, this club has raised money to benefit underprivileged families. But, without the guidance of advisor Mr. Gallagher, and the leadership of president Lisel Chan, this club would have never survived.

VIETNAMESE

Establishing A Foundation

Inspite of the small attendance of this Club picture, the 1983-84 Vietnamese Club includes a great amount of Glendale High's students. Then what accounts for this small picture? Just as advisor Mr. Richard Vu explained it, "The Vietnamese are a very quiet and a lowprofile race." This explains their abundance of creativity in the arts, as well as their strive for academic excellence.

What this club provides is a way to bring together the shy people of the Vietnamese race. And by the time the members of this club have graduated, the club hopes that each individual has established friendships, as well as accomplishing excellence in high school. Not only does this club touch the lives of the members, but the students of Glendale High also. It is their participation in carnivals and fundraisers which has motivated the spirit of GHS.

DANCE COMPANY

Dance Takes New Form

This year's 1983-84 Dance Company has seen a tremendous change. The reason for its turnover is due to the new energetic dance instructor. Her main interest to emphasize the need to understand the movement of different types of dancing. They have visited such places as the Jazz Concerts and as well as the California Art Institute to help reinforce the need. Mrs. Lyles hopes to have accomplished a mutual respect and responsibility to themselves as well as to others.

At the end of the year, these dancers had performed an outstanding Spring program on May 10 and 11 called "Illusions". It wasn't easy, for each girl had to try out and compete against other girls in order to achieve a solo in this program. Hats go off for those girls involved as well as the inspiring new instructor, the ambitious Mrs. Lyles.

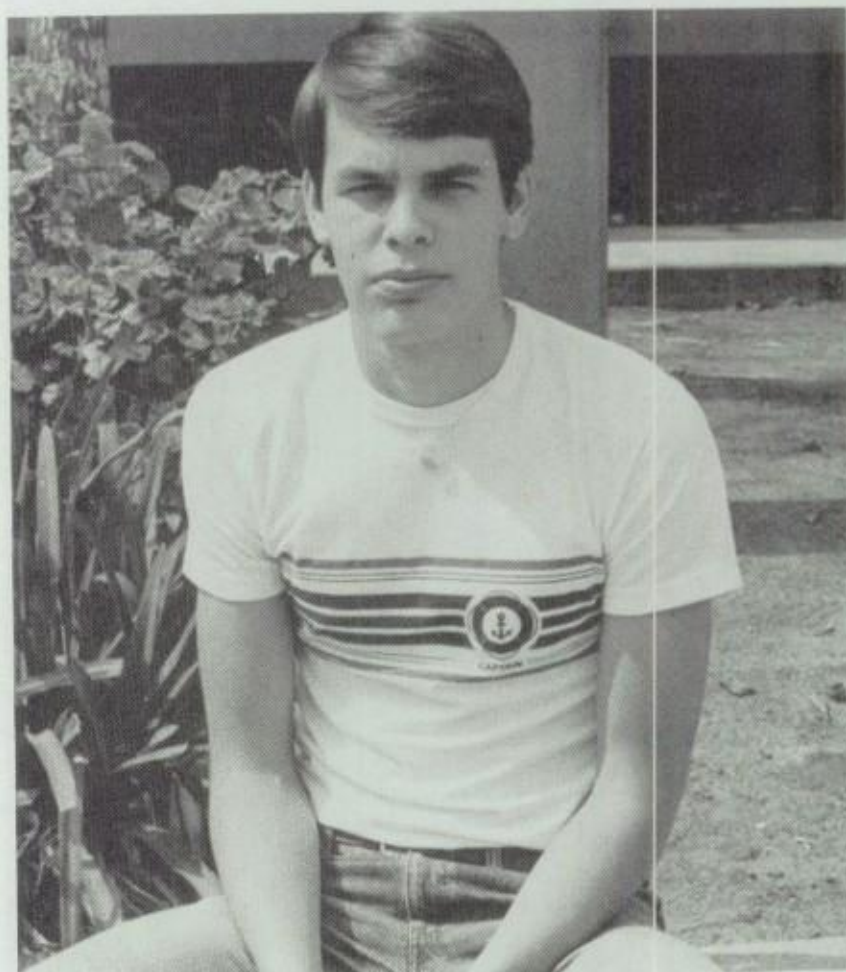

Life In America, Turns Out To Be Better

Coming to America as an exchange student was one of the biggest decisions I had to make in my life. I chose U.S.A. because I thought of it as one of the best countries in the world.

I came here in August with a lot of dreams about what the year was going to be like. Most of them have come true. I was very fortunate to get a very nice family in Glendale.

When I first started school in G.H.S. in October, I thought that the school was awfully big and that there were too many students. After the first day, I felt alone and outside and thought that this year was not going to be much. Week after week, I started to float around and soon found myself with a lot of friends.

Now I feel as though I've been a student at G.H.S. for many years. I want to thank everybody for their friendliness and helpfulness. I am very proud that I have the opportunity to be one of the many students here at Glendale High School.

Mikael Backman from Finland.

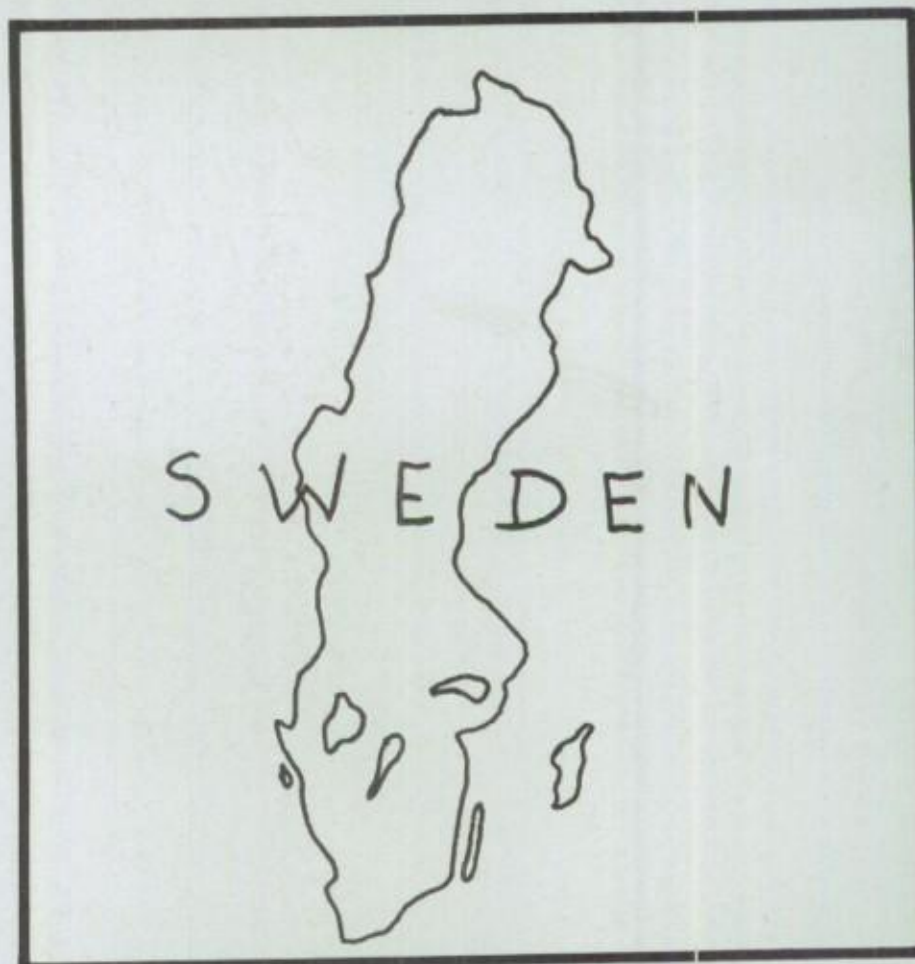

Dreams Come True In America

Hi! I'm Karin Mannsson and I'm from the southern part of Sweden. My first great shock when arriving in Los Angeles was to see all the mountains that surrounded the city.

I've learned that the most important thing to remember being an exchange student is not to indulge in daydreams about your new family and friends before you arrive. So, I came here with only one thought, to have a great year. It turned out to be even greater than I ever could have dreamed. My family is incredibly nice and I feel as though I've been one of them. I'd like to thank all my new friends for making this a memorable year!!!

What really surprised me the most was the great, exciting school spirit here at G.H.S.!!

Finally, I'd like to thank my family and friends who have made my year greater than I ever hoped. I'll always remember California and its great treasures and sunny climate. This year has been a very special one!

Karin Mannsson's home country, Sweden.

Kim enjoyed her experiences in Brazil.

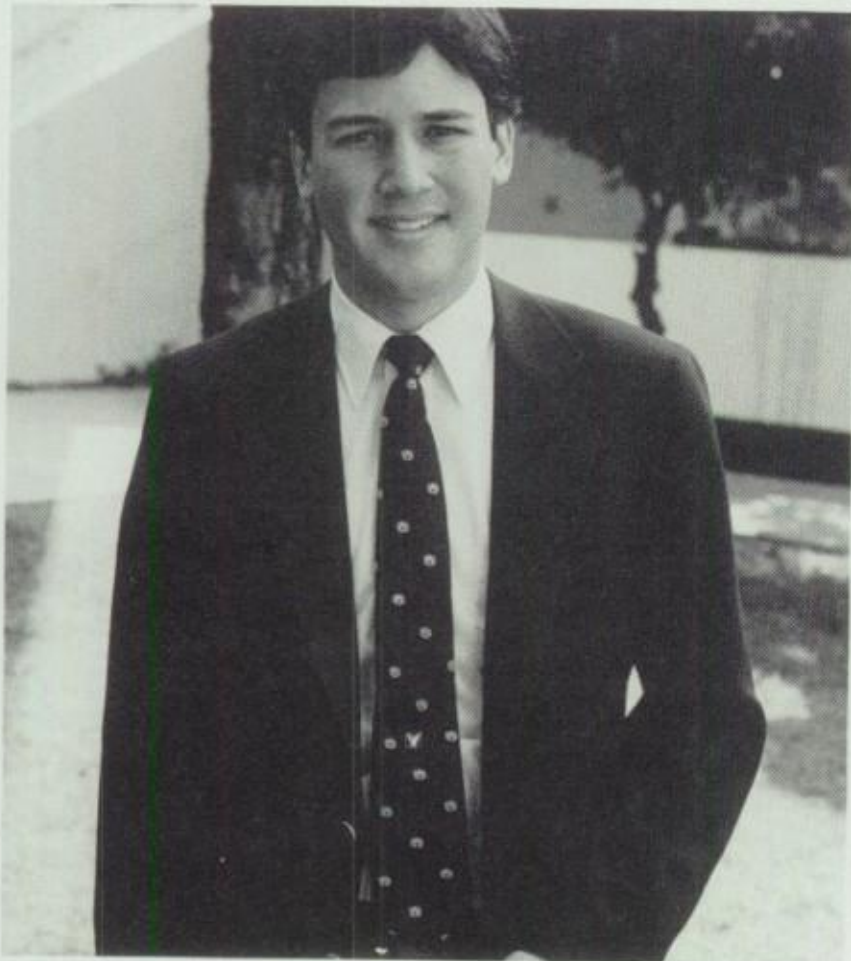

Experiencing The Brazilian Lifestyle

I'm Kim Haase and last summer I spent two months in Brazil (the largest country in South America). My home was a farm town in the west called Dourados.

I was really surprised at how attached I became to my "family" in such a short period of time. Brazilians in general are very friendly, and they made me feel really comfortable in their country.

For most of the two months I just learned about the slow lifestyle of Brazil and tried to pick up Portuguese.

My stay in Brazil was one of the best experiences of my life. I'd like to thank AFS and my American and Brazilian families for making it possible, and all my friends for writing to me!

Fred found his stay in Honduras to be intellectually stimulating.

Honduras, Found To Be Filled With Excitement

My name is Fred Heyler. I spent my last summer as an American Field Service exchange student in Honduras, Central America. While living with a family in the capital city of Tegucigalpa, I led a very active life. I never dreamed that I could become so attached to a place and people in such a relatively short period of time.

While in Honduras, I did not regularly attend school, but I did actively learn the country's culture, customs, and history. I also was very busy with social and political activities.

During my stay in Honduras, I saw a good part of the country visiting the ancient Mayan ruins of Copan, spending a week at La Ceiba on the North Coast on the Caribbean, and traveling to several other parts of Honduras.

But by far the most valuable part of my experience was the good friends that I made and the family I had. These nine weeks of my life I consider one of the most valuable, educational and fun experiences of my whole entire life!!!

FACULTY

Tribute to a Teacher

He was a teacher this was the first and best visit impression he gave. He was one whose personality did not contrast into his profession, but on the contrary his calling, for it was more than an occupational pursuit, broadened and strewn into his entire being.

He was a teacher and therefore his was a poetic sensitivity to growth, to enlargement. Only a poet hears the grass grow, witnesses the flowers in their actual blossoming, beholds the ripening in process in field and meadow. And only a teacher actually sees the seedlings of the youthful mind reaching out for the light, germinating and sprouting under the loving touch of an inspired gardener.

He was a teacher and therefore a creative artist working in the most precious and intricate of all media - the human complex of mind and heart and conscience. To mold and to shape, to guide and to ignite, and yet not to trespass upon the inner integrity and individuality of the child - this was the incredibly difficult and significant task upon which he was set.

He was a teacher and therefore one who is forever bent on the greatest adventure of all, the exploration of another's mind, the delving into another spirit to mine, uncover and bring forth into the light the possibilities that lie hidden in the depths. No diver descended into the sea in search of treasure, no explorer journeyed to unknown continents with greater anticipation and higher excitement.

He was a teacher, and therefore he loved his fellowman. Neither his skill nor his diligence were substituted for the love which led him to devote himself to the instruction of his neighbor and his neighbor's child.

He was a teacher and therefore one who revered the word, honored ideas, exalted thought and fostered the great dream. He was a teacher and knew with conviction that the hope of men lies not in their machines or in their power or in their unutilized ego but in their refinement, actuality and sensitivity which the thinker, poet, seaman awaken in them. He sought to redeem man, not by mastery over the outer world but by cultivating their

Administrators Essential For High School Success

As you reflect back on the 1983-84 school year, I hope you can point with pride to the fact that you were an involved student and shared part of yourself with others. This has been an eventful year with most of the activities recorded by your yearbook. May the future be one filled with your accomplishments and with many of your goals met.

Counselors Support Students

When surviving high school seems almost impossible for a student, there is one special group of people who are always willing to help. Who are these people? They are the Glendale High School counselors. Counselors come to the rescue for students of all grades. For Sophomores these are the people who help students decide the right classes for the first year of high school and steer them in the right direction for a successful high school career. As for juniors, they too can consult their counselors for virtually anything. Counselors give Juniors advice on the SAT and college choices. The seniors of Glendale High also rely on counselors. The counselors are always there to answer questions about college and to help them fill out their applications. So like a lighthouse in the mist of a foggy night at sea, counselors are the guiding light that help the students survive high school.

Students Appreciate Teachers

School this year could not have been completed without the help and support of our faculty. As a whole, the faculty tried very hard to create interesting courses of study for their students. Although many of the classes carried a difficult load of work, many of the teachers grouped the difficulty with an interesting and exciting course outline. This created an atmosphere for the students which encouraged them to work hard. "Most of my classes are exciting and intellectually stimulating. I find that I am having fun because my teacher's courses are very refreshing instead of dull, monotonous classes," stated one student. Dedicated faculty members have shown a strong concern in helping students by putting in extra hours before and after school. This extra effort is much appreciated by all students.

A SEASON THAT WILL LIVE AN ETERNITY

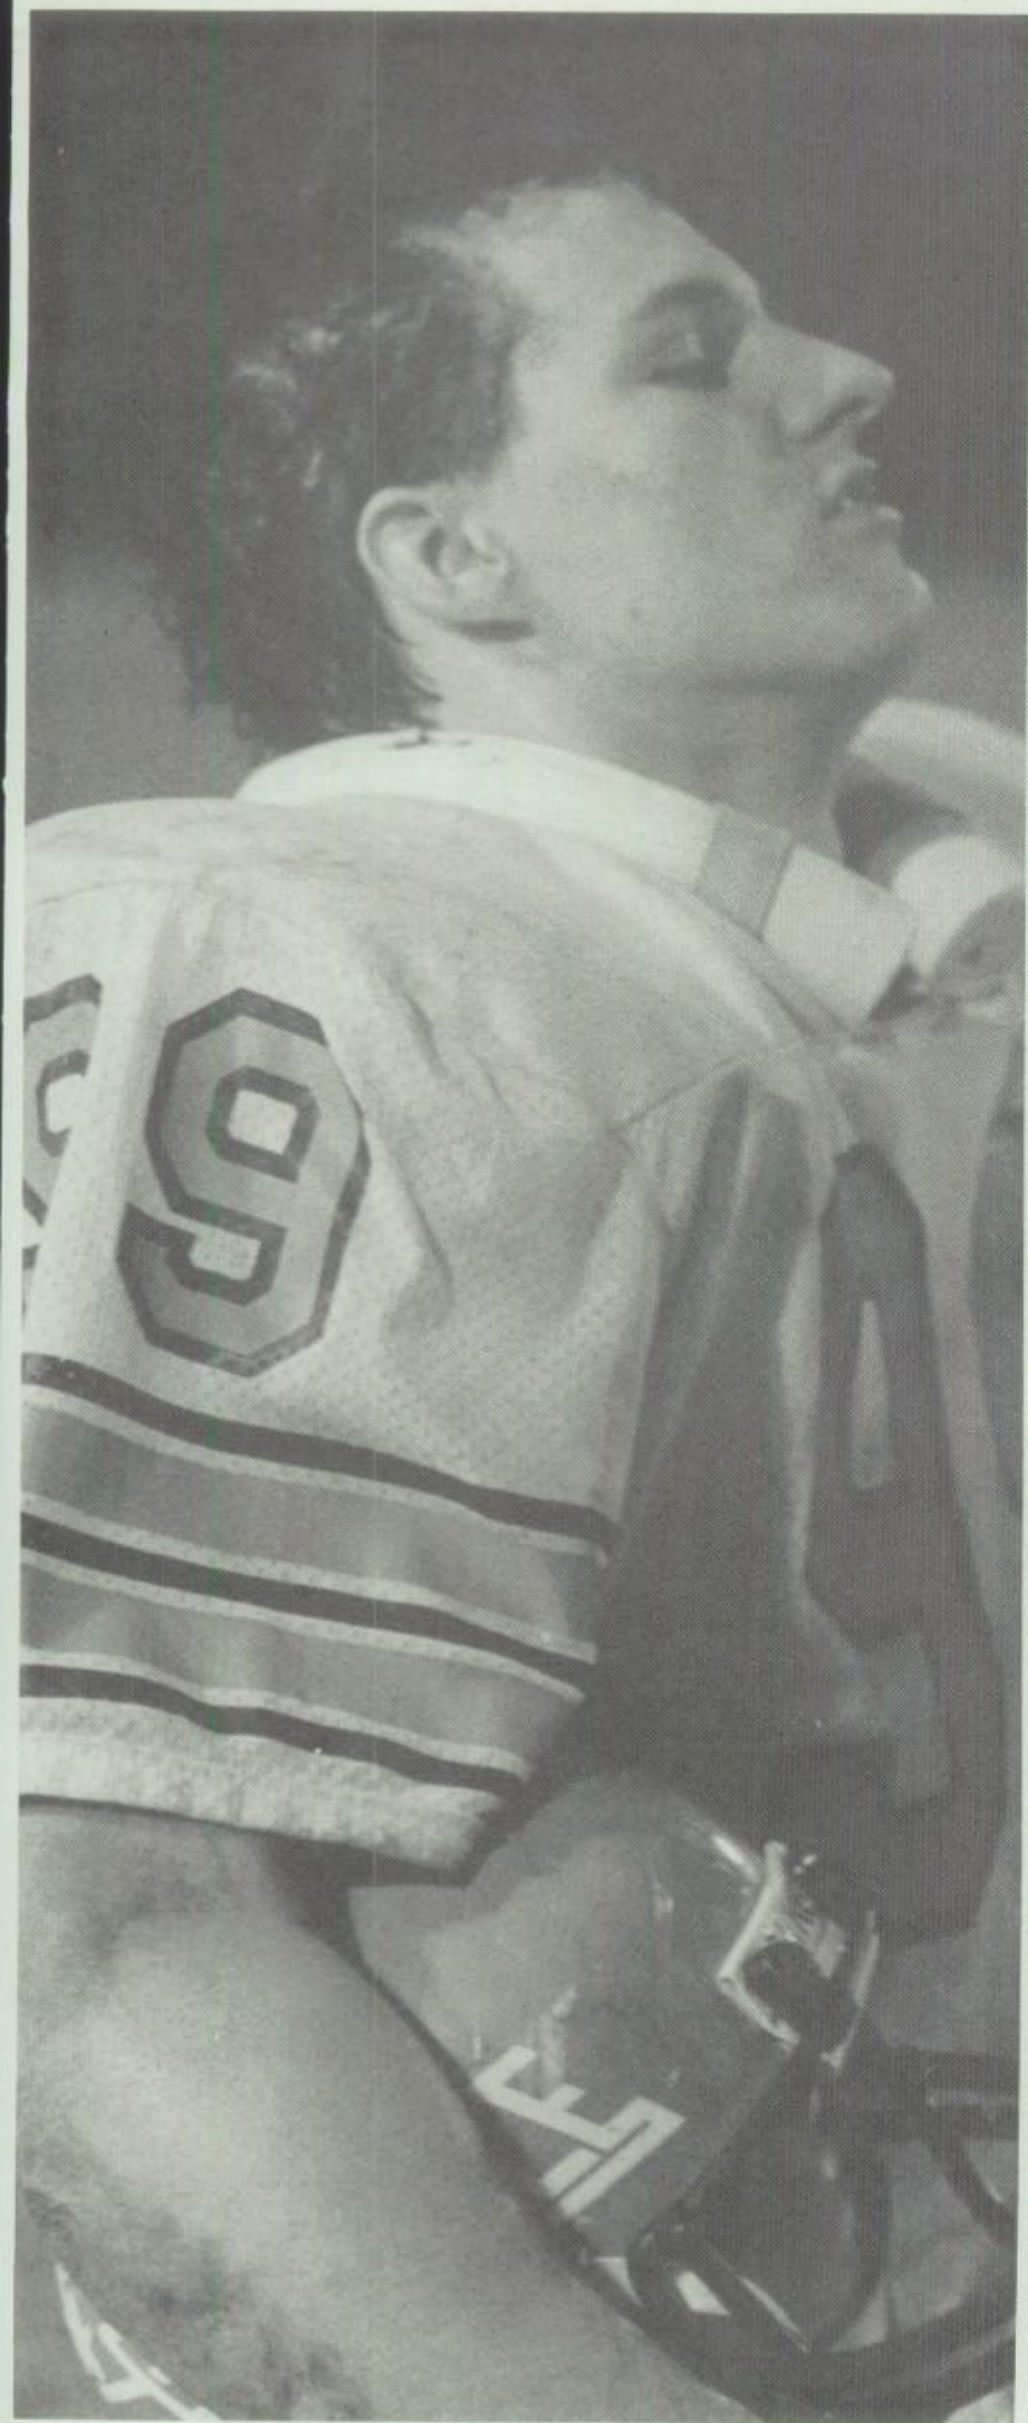

Starting three weeks before most people even think about school, the Nitro's were out at 7:00 AM beginning their 1983 season. Full of enthusiasm and high hopes, they worked out from 7:00-9:30, 2:00-4:00 and 4:30-6:30. These triple days proved to be brutal, with most players spending their time off the field sleeping or eating. New head coach Stu Roper and new assistants Billy Chase and John Brinton joined veteran Nitro coach Cary Hollingsworth. They started to work with a system foreign to all but Roper, which proved to be a learning experience for all the coaches and players. As an offense and defense began to take shape, everyone started to get an itch for the first game of the season. As hell week and double days dwindled down closer to Alhambra, the team began to get used to going without water breaks, doing body weights, and marching in formation which became affectionately known as ROPER BALL.

FOOTBALL

GHS 9 Alhambra 35 The new look Nitro's found themselves in trouble from the beginning. Receiving the kick first, they proceeded to fumble in the end zone and let Alhambra recover the ball for a TD. Finally in the fourth quarter, Glendale scored with a 30 yd. field goal by Austin Park and a Pete Rosales TD. It was a revived passing attack that led Glendale to these scores.

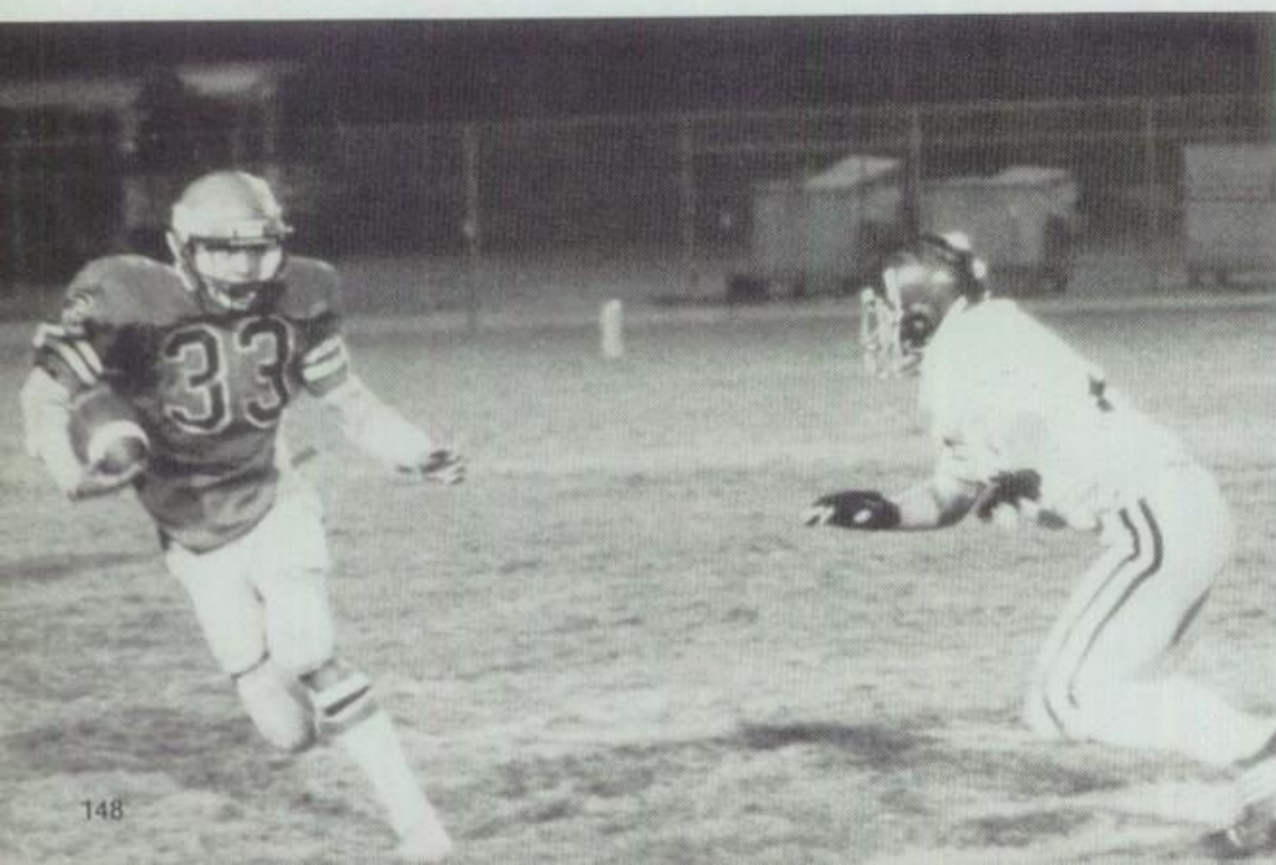

GHS 0 La Canada 24 Glendale was able to hold the Spartans for most of the first half until a Nitro defensive back was burned deep and the Soa Spartans cashed in. La Canada scored three times this way and also kicked a field goal. Glendale's offense could not seem to get moving the entire game and was never a real scoring threat. Untimely penalties also hurt the Nitros severely.

GHS 7 San Marino 13 In a hard hitting game, Glendale almost grabbed a win. The Titans scored first driving on the ground. Glendale rallied in the third quarter holding the ball for most of that quarter. A spectacular Scott Robert's catch in the end zone tied the game at seven. San Marino was able to rally in the fourth quarter for the win.

GHS 0 Burroughs 14 A tough defense kept Glendale in the game by stopping the Indians with only 189 total yardage. The Nitro offense stumbled with seemingly unintelligent play calling. A fake punt by Glendale led to a Burroughs score when Pete Rosales was stopped short. Burroughs second score was on a big kickoff return by Bert Mersola. Glendale felt good about this game despite the loss.

Starting quarterback Vahak Mardikian passes down field.

GHS 0 Burbank 28 The inability to get the ball to receivers was a major cause of this Glendale defeat. The Nitro's thought that they would be able to start their momentum into league with a win but were not so fortunate. Glendale's only scoring opportunity came in the 4th quarter when Jim Tyler jumped over the goal line only to fumble in the end zone. The Nitro offense was inanimate the entire game while the defense could not seem to hold the Bulldog's running attack. The now 0-5 Nitro's proceeded into league with the belief that their season was just starting and that the past games were nothing but primers. CV would be their first match.

Optimism Leads Nitros Into League

GHS 0 Pasadena 49 In the first of two Pasadena city routes, things fell apart from the beginning for the Nitro's. Glendale opened the game by kicking off. An attempted onsides kick was returned to the Glendale ten by the Bulldogs and a few plays later they punched in the first of many scores. Pasadena continued to roll over Glendale scoring six times in the first half. By the second half the Bulldogs scored only once with their third string. Now that Glendale was 0-8 many of the players, began to doubt whether or not they would be able to win a game.

GHS 0 Muir 70 This laughter featured a score that almost doubled Glendale's entire season scoring totals. Glendale was unable to stop the Mustangs passing attack at any time and was just as bad dealing with their running game. Switching quarterbacks continuously, the Nitros tried to put together some kind of drive but to no avail. The half time score was 49-0, but Muir would not let up. They continued to score making themselves look good for the ratings. Glendale was taking the season as a total loss looking for the Hoover game to be the redeeming factor.

All-league for both teams, Fidel Nahle readies to hammer.

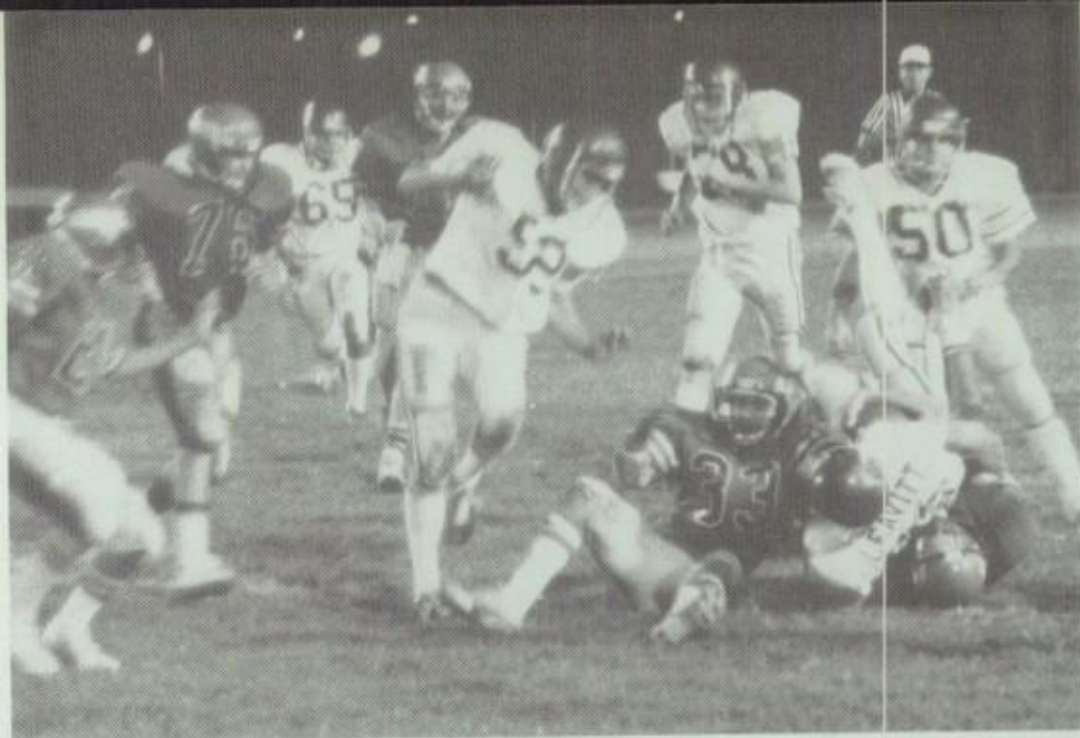

GHS 8 Cresenta Valley 10 In the first league and first intercity rivalry game, Glendale physically abused the Falcons. At half time the score was 0-3 with CV's field goal by Randy Fraser. The Nitro's scored with a passing attack but it was too late as CV scored also. Thuong Nguyen caught an 83 yd. hail mary and John Brydon grabbed a two point conversion pass to make Glendale's eight. Glendale's running attack was dormant the entire game but the coaching staff insisted on going with the ground game. Glendale's defense stood out by shutting down the Falcon's running game. The only big play of the game for CV led to their touchdown. CV's coach Warnock admitted that Glendale beat them on the field but that didn't put a win in the Nitro's book.

GHS 14 Arcadia 34 This was Glendale's highest scoring game of the season but they still could not capture a win. The first Nitro score came in the first quarter when Kevin Jackson cut back against the grain for a 48 yard scamper. A two point conversion failed and Glendale was as close as they would get. The Apaches pounded out yardage on the ground, going to the air very little. Glendale refused to give up and in the fourth quarter Vahak Mardikian connected with John Brydon for another six. This time the two point conversion worked and the Nitros ended up with their fourteen. With this loss Glendale lost all hope of the league title and put their chances of post season play in jeopardy.

Hoover Loss Caps Off Terrible Season

GHS 6 Hoover 48 Glendale's chance to go out in style died. The Nitro's were confident that they would win this one but to no avail. The Nitro jinx started early when the first kickoff hit a Glendale lineman and was recovered by Hoover. The Tornados drove for a score with the help of interference and holding penalties in their backfield. Glendale got the ball back only to fumble it and let a Hoover lineman pick it up and score. Finally Glendale put a series of play action passes together. They drove down to the Hoover 8 yard line and scored with another pass. Typically, Glendale kicked and let a Tornado back run the ball back for six. The big play continued to kill Glendale and ultimately finished them off. The end of a terrible season had come and some players went to Las Vegas to escape the embarrassment.

Sophomores: Glendale's Big Hitters Of Tomorrow.

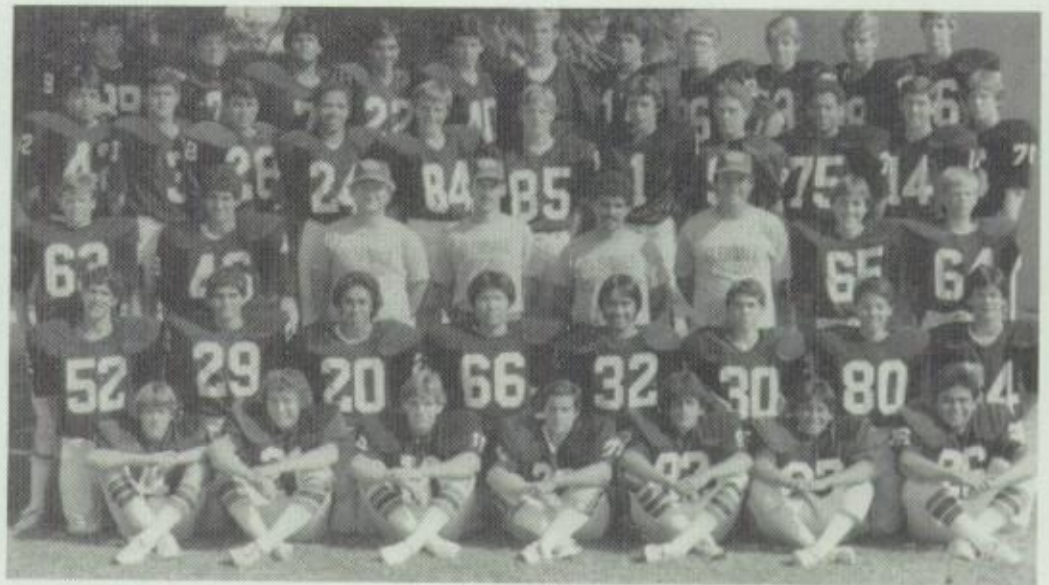

This year's Sophomore team had a very successful season going 3-2 in league, 4-6 overall. Coached by Alan Eberhart and his staff many good young prospects came out of the team. For example, running back Freddie Lingad was named Quarterback Club sophomore player of the year. There were other standouts also; Steve Whitsell, Devin Boelman, and Tim Loya all had good seasons. This year of preparation will undoubtedly be a good one for next year.

Polo Finds Success Despite Inconsistency

The 1983 water polo season in retrospect proved to be a successful one. They compiled a 12-10 record en route to finishing in a tie for third place with CV. The year found the Nitros often playing brilliantly, yet other times they could not put it all together. The team was lead by seniors Jeff Stevens and Jamie Venable, both scoring over 80 goals each. Mike Dickerson gave consistent play in the goal. Consistency, however, was the Nitros toughest opponent, and they often resembled a team with a split personality.

Dr. Jekyll: The Nitros came blazingly out of the gates at the start of the season earning a 11-4 record. They were a team with desire and intensity, and proved this in the South Bay tournament by beating Hoover in the final game, marking their best finish in the tournament in five years. The Nitros then opened league with a 3-1 record and impressive wins over CV and Arcadia. At this point in the season, the team was on fire and apparently in control of their destiny.

Mr. Hyde: The final part of the season was a nightmare with Glendale winning only one of their last seven games. Their best game during this slump came in a tough loss to Hoover 12-10. The Nitros simply lost the intensity and desire that brought them such a fine start. The overall season was successful as Glendale posted their best record in three years.

Sophs Struggle Gaining Experience And Confidence

The 1983 Frosh/Soph water polo team had a tough season, finishing with a 2-4 league record. Led by veteran coach Peter Loporchio, the Frosh/Soph team gained experience and confidence throughout the fall.

The disappointing season started with a tough overtime loss to the Arcadia Apaches. The Glendale poloists had trouble coming back after such an emotionally draining loss.

The young Nitros were led by star Mike Hounsell who was the team's leading scorer despite the fact that he played nearly half of every game at goalie. One poloist claimed, "Mike was the team's all-everything, he shows a lot of promise for next year." Other team leaders included ninth grader Jim Damron and sophomores Scott Collier and Dean Sauer.

Nitros Dominate Pacific League

This year's boys varsity cross country team went undefeated in league competition and earned their first league title in 19 years. Glendale outran all the tough opponents from the Pacific League. Glendale's closest meet was with Arcadia, the Nitros found themselves on top by three points. Although the varsity team will lose senior Dan Palma, who will leave many long distance running records behind him, they appear to be in good shape for the 1984 season.

The Nitros started strong all season.

Girls Eagerly Await Upcoming Season

The girls' cross country team, composed of mostly juniors and sophomores, had a somewhat disappointing season, finishing with a 2-3 record and fourth place in the league. The team was lead by juniors Jennifer Jackson, Chris Rassmusen, and Kim Wong. The girls ran an outstanding race in the Pacific League Team and Individual Finals. Each girl broke her own individual record by at least forty seconds.

Coach Broneer was very proud of the team's performance, and anxiously awaits the 1984 season.

Seniors Lead Volleyball To Playoffs

Without a doubt, this year's varsity volleyball team survived their season with no problem. Going 8-2 in league and 12-2 overall, they finished the season with an impressive second place finish in the Pacific League. Led by Seniors Judy Bellomo, Chris Kobellas, Carla Gasmen and Carla Shaw the Nitros dominated most of the league falling only to league champions Arcadia High. They highlighted their season with a commanding three game sweep of the Hoover Tornados. It was said that the key to the girl's season success was their ability to play together and the invaluable help of their coach Ninja Jorgensen. The player felt that without her help the season would not have been so successful.

Girls Survive First Round Of CIF Playoffs

The Nitros were sitting pretty going into the CIF Four A playoffs. Clinching the home court advantage by beating Hoover, the girls were ready to take on Paramount High. Beating them 15-12, 15-6, 12-15, 17-15. They showed that they could compete with anyone. In their second game against Mira Costa they could not seem to play together while being outclassed, outmuscled, and comparatively inexperienced. The Nitros lost in three games 15-3, 15-3, 15-3. In spite of the loss, there were many outstanding performances by Kim Haase, Chris Kobellas, and Kelly Gaines. Even with this disappointing ending, the '83 season was a great success.

Judy Bellomo spikes one home!

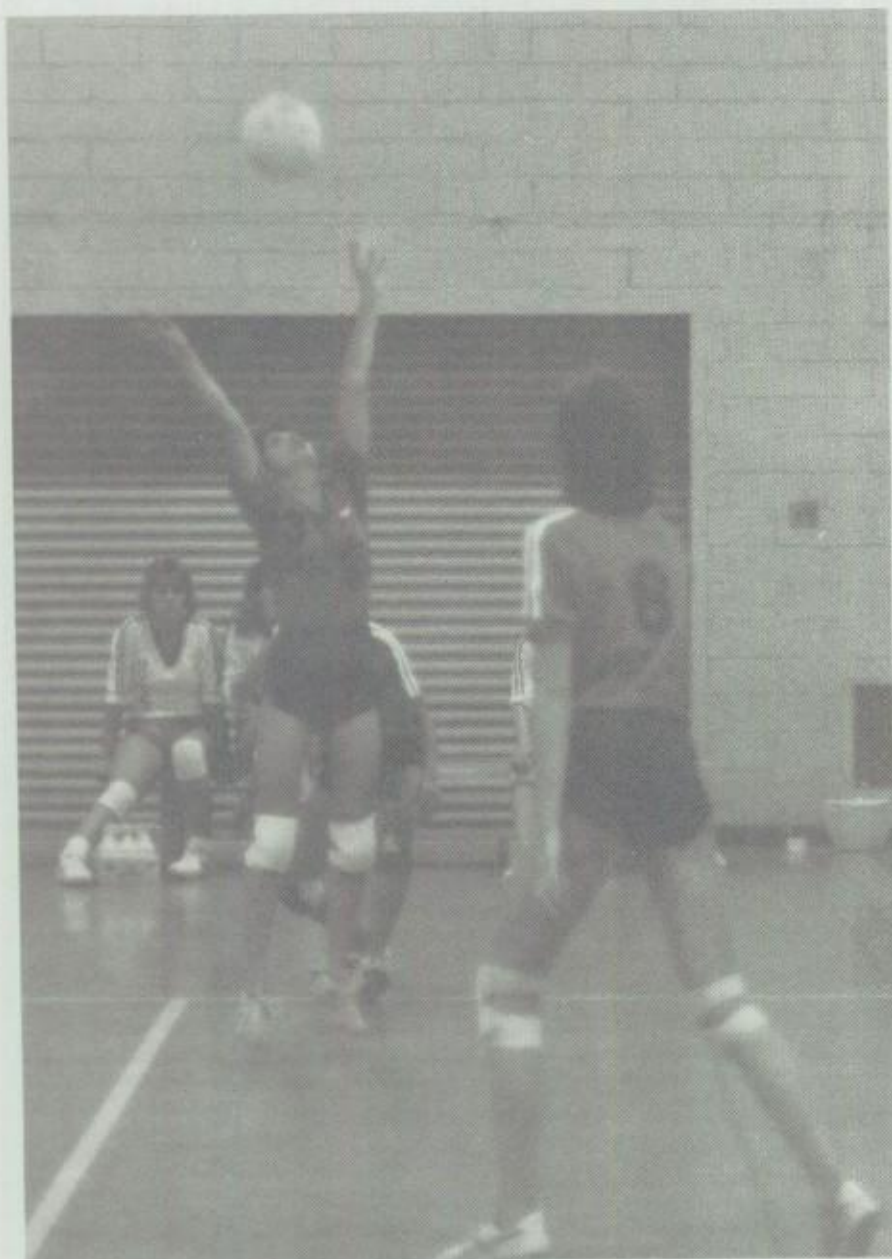

JV'S FOLLOW VARSITY SUCCESS

This year's Junior Varsity team was a terrific success. Like the Varsity they were 9-2 in league and 12-2 overall. Players such as Kim Malone, Caroline Gasmen and Ann Mudie stood out as great prospects for next year's season. Under the guidance and leadership of Coach Jack Trotter, these girls were prepared for the intense competition of varsity play. The season was a great confidence builder for the girls. Knowing that their abilities can be used successfully gave them a secure feeling in their talents. They are all very excited and anxious for the new season to come. If all holds well for these girls, they could easily win the Pacific League title next year.

This Is Where Stars Are Born

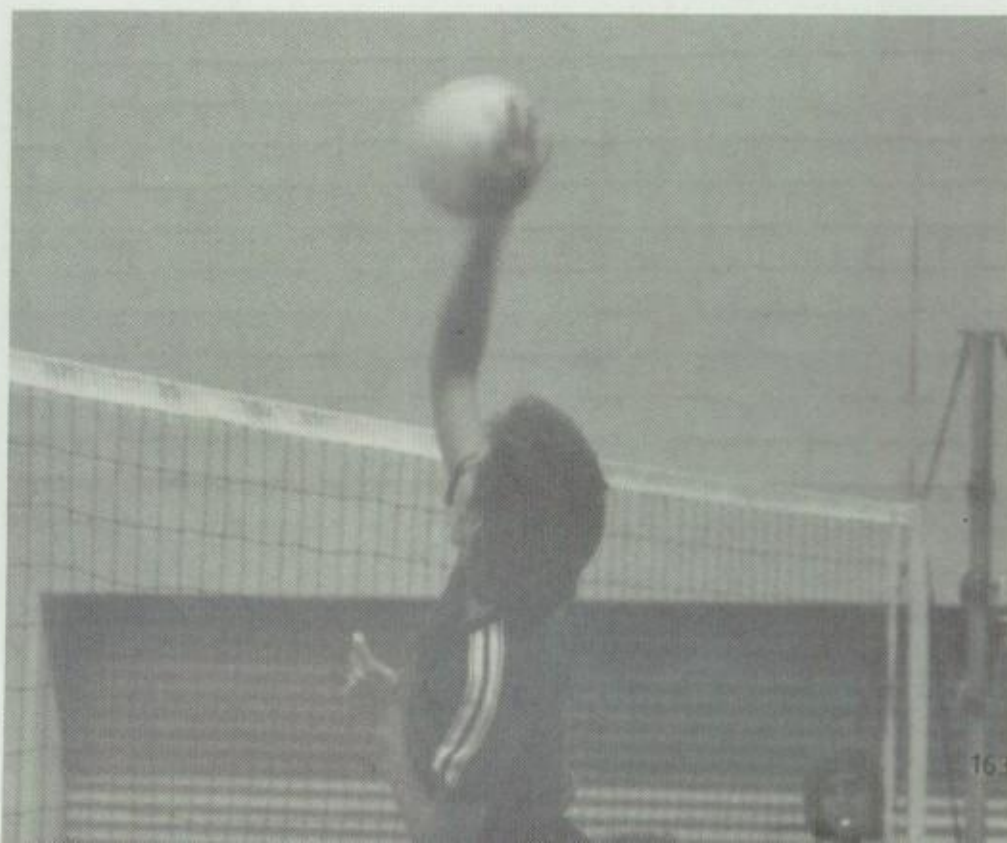

The Novice volleyball team has been a prime place for girls to improve their volleyball skills and prepare for next years JV and Varsity competition. The basic skills of bumping, setting and spiking were all improved with the finer points of strategy and technique introduced. With this knowledge they now can compete as a team. The team proved to be a good outlet from the daily grind of school since it was based around having fun instead of fierce competition. This all led to an environment that made school survivable.

Hard Work And Team Spirit Made A Successful Season

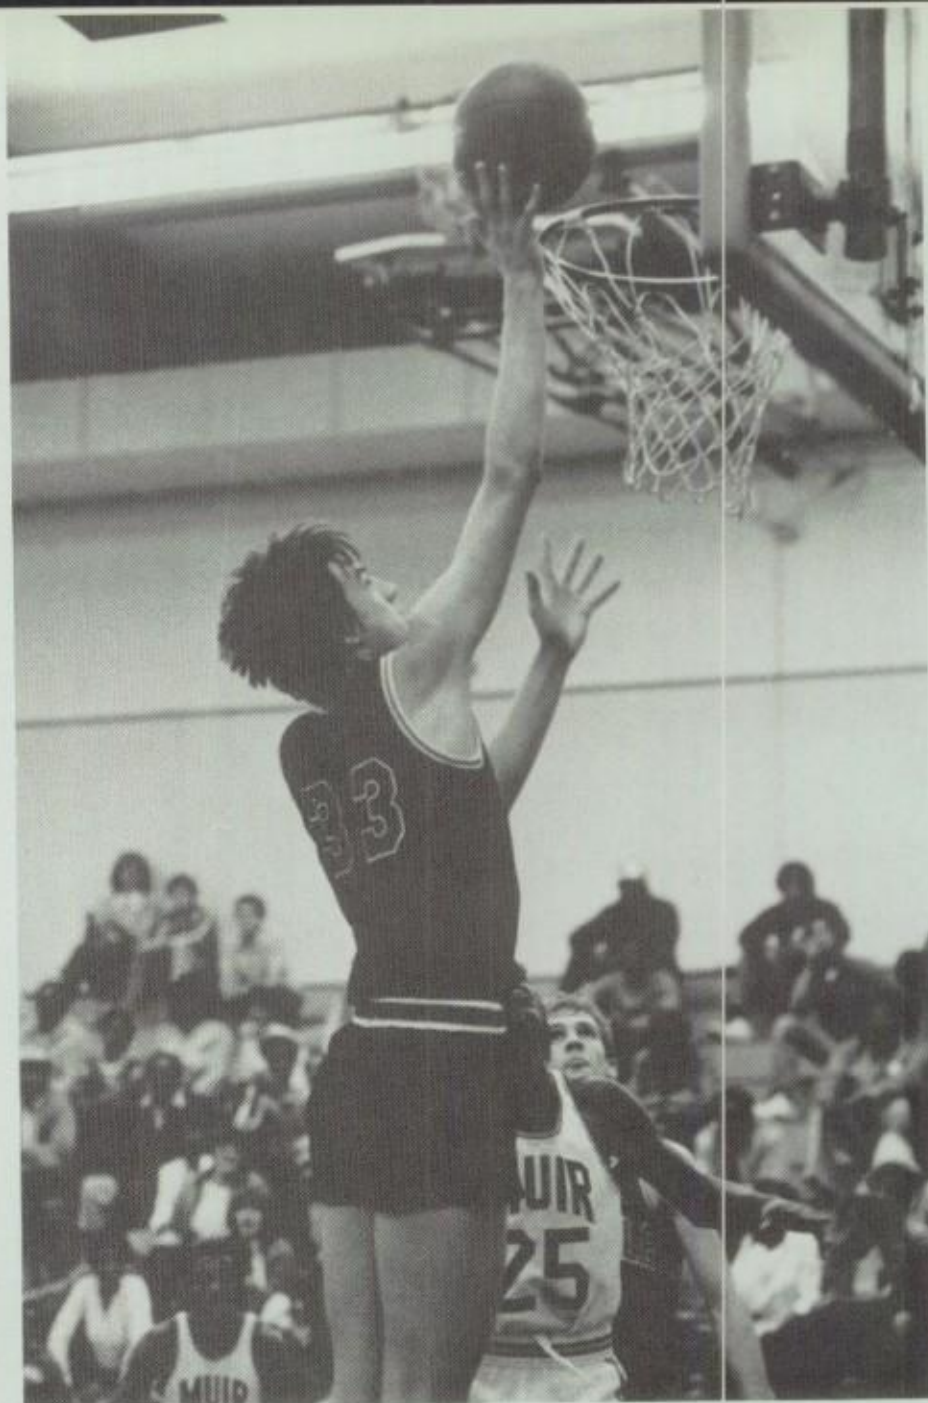

Finishing a successful season, JV and Varsity Tennis look back to their season. Cami Christoffersen recalls the motivation behind their matches, "we really wanted to win, and we tried our best." Number two player, Julie Giammarino remembers the incident that suspended all the varsity players and led to the Hoover default, "we left the coach at Crescenta Valley High School parking lot, and she suspended us the following week for embarrassing her." With five wins and fives loses, (one default) Varsity ranked in fourth place.

On the other side of the court, there was Junior Varsity which had a remarkable season. With daily practices from two to four pm, JV ranked in second place with only two loses, to Arcadia and Hoover. Nicole Esquibas commented, "we had a lot of team spirit, a hard working team, and a pretty good season."

Nitros Come Out On Top In The Pacific League

This years varsity team was loaded with talent and heart to match. The intensity and will to win was present every time the Nitros took the court. The team was led by one of the finest coaches in the area. Coach Steve Keith not only did a fine job of coaching but also showed class and coolness during very important games. The STYLUS staff would like to salute the fine coaching of Mr. Keith, not only this year but every year.

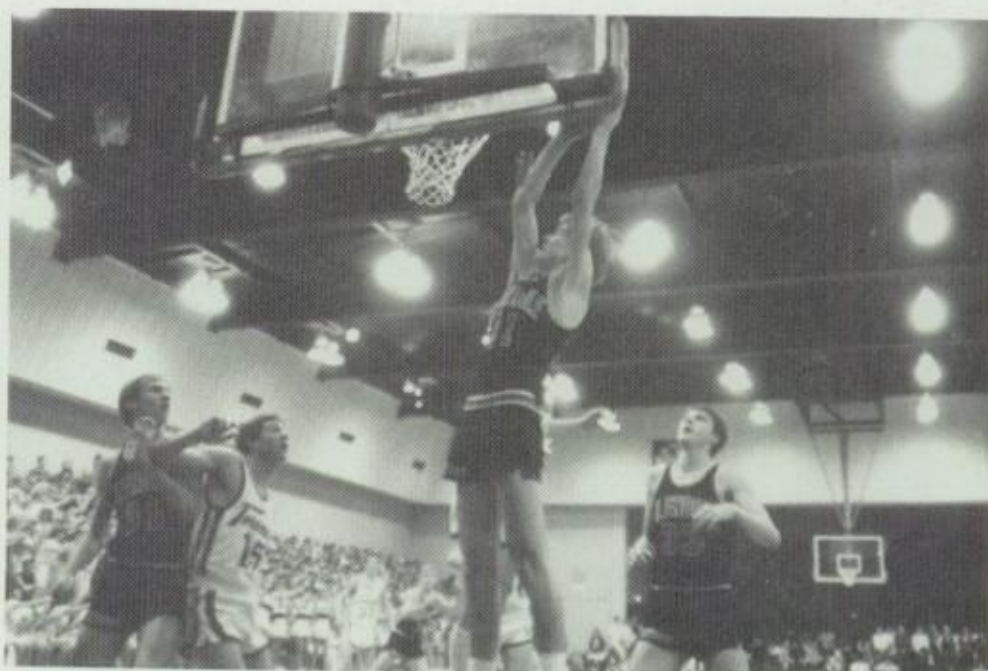

Captains Rich Grande and Ted Grissom led the Nitros in emotional play as well as physical play. The Nitros finished with an 8-2 league record, Co-Pacific League Champions. Their overall record was 17-7.

JV's End Up With Winning Season

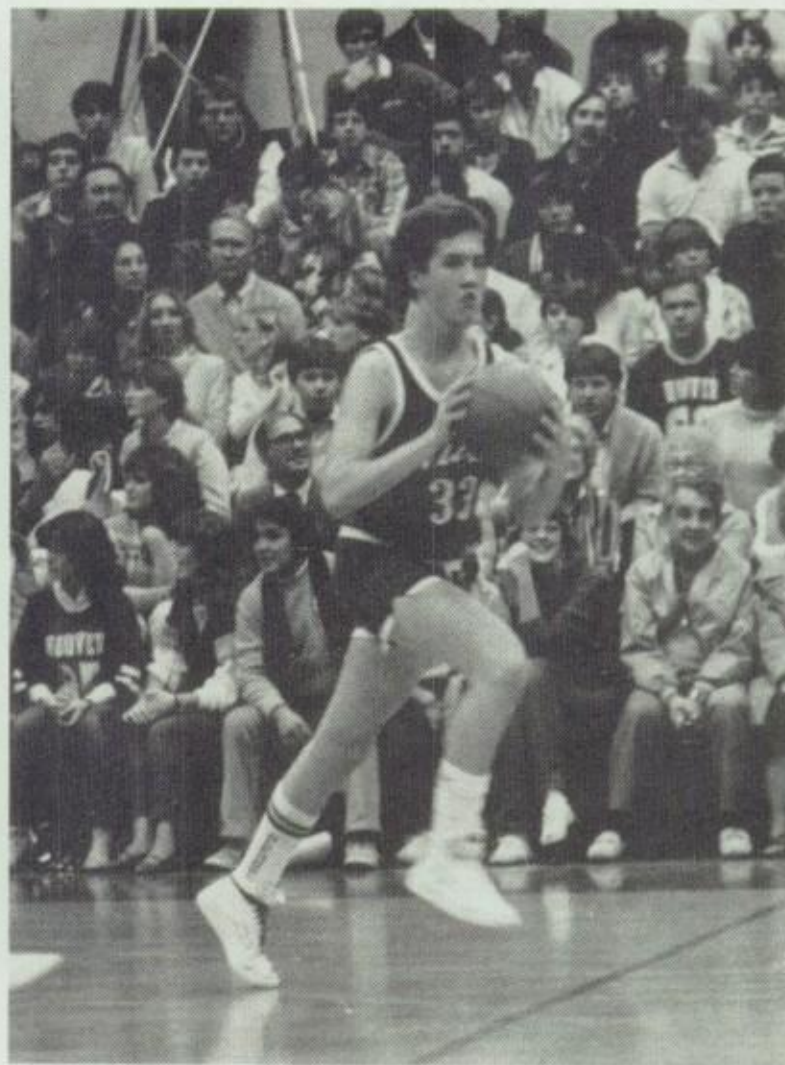

The boys' Junior Varsity basketball team started the season with tremendous momentum that lasted the first 9 games. After a 9-0 streak, the team's momentum was lost. Individual attempts to regain it, failed. The JV's ended up with a 14-9 overall record, 3-7 in the Pacific league. The team was lead by captains Seung Chai and Carmelo Tony Battaglia, junior Mike Aubrey, and sophomore Geoff Foote. Despite the fact that the team was continually plagued by sickness and injury, they were able to regroup and defeat Hoover in the final game.

Dedication Varsity Girls

This years girls Varsity basketball team has had an off and on winning season. They started by losing to Blair High School, and from there winning almost every other game. But, because of their school spirit, these girls managed to become league champions through winning rivals, Hoover, and C.V.

Recognition for the hard work which these girls had to indure must not be overlooked. They have spent many hours practicing their shooting, and playing patterns to increase their endurance for each game. Yet, none of this would have been possible without the guidance of coach Lynn Johnson.

Next year's Basketball team will look promising because of the returning experienced players. Glendale is proud of the 1984 team's dedication.

Preparing For The Future

The Junior Varsity's seasonal record this year may reflect upon future expectations. Although they were 6-4 in league games, their talents and dedication to the sport proves to be outstanding. And with the excellent preparation for the Varsity team that J.V. provides, these girls can possibly make something out of next years Varsity team. Yet, without the coaching of Debbie Rinder, this team would have never worked this hard to be their best as a team. This team also has alot of enthusiasm among them, which has helped pull them together to work as an organized team.

Varsity Softball Combines Dedication And Enthusiasm

Under the guidance of coaches, Ms. Pisani, Debbie Rinder, Kim Blocko, and Varsity Team Captain, Carla Shaw, this year's Varsity Softball did a remarkable job.

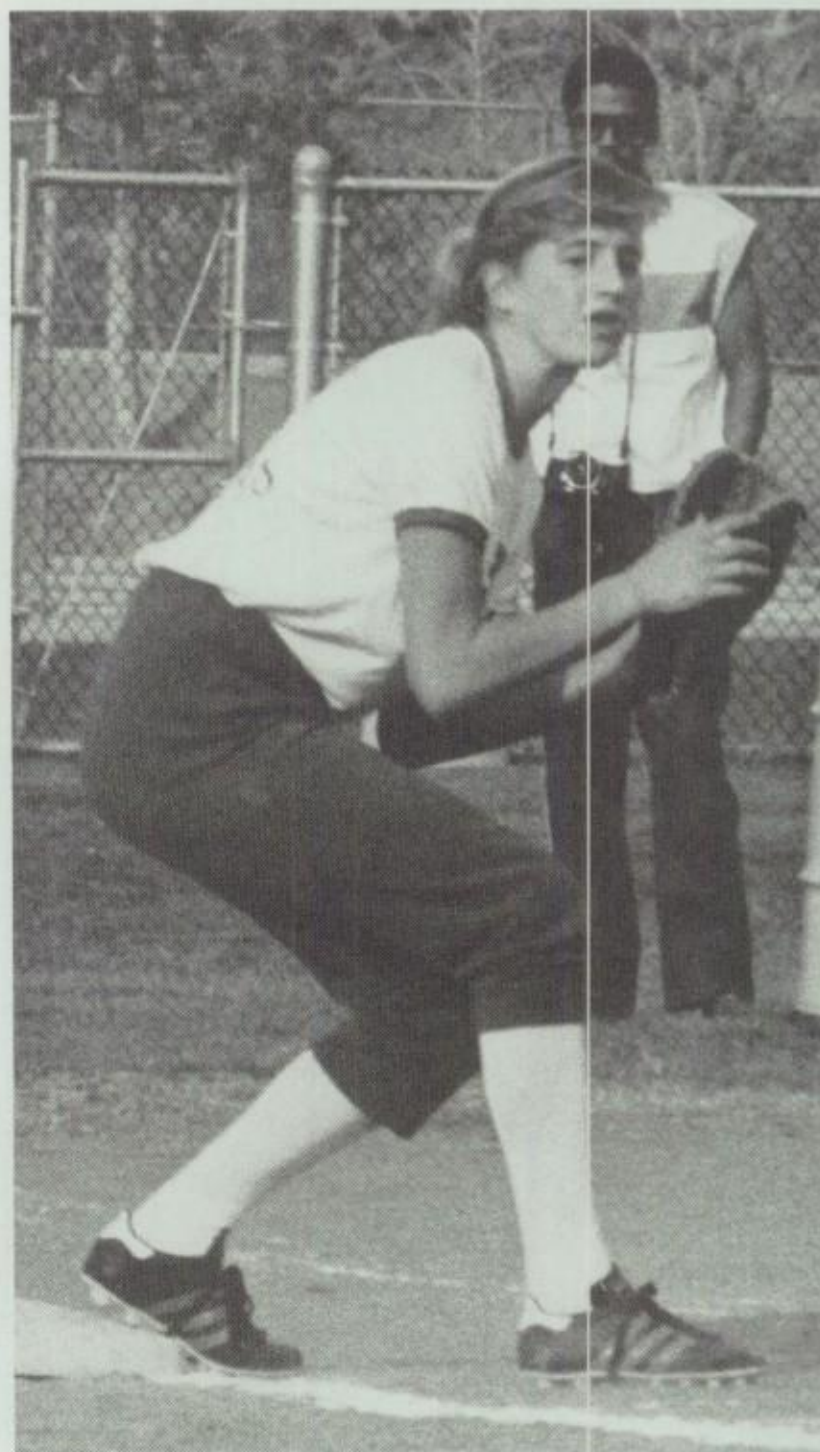

"We have a very close and enthusiastic team which really helped pull the team together on the field as well as off", says Carla Shaw, two year varsity player.

With daily practices from 2:00-4:30 p.m. at School Canyon, the team increased mental stamina as well as physical endurance. Jeanette Surrette comments, "the coaches really knew how to work us out!" Their dedication to the sport created many friendships and hardships that will always be remembered. Good job girls!!!

Said to be great prospects for next year's varsity team, this year's JV team continued their moderate workouts and games with coaches Kim Blocko, Debbie Rinder and Ms. Pisani at Scholl canyon from 2:00-4:30 p.m.

In addition to all the long, daily practices, the girls all agree that they have gotten to be close friends. When asked about the team's moral attitude, Cherry Waugh commented, "We're always trying to encourage and help each other as much as we can."

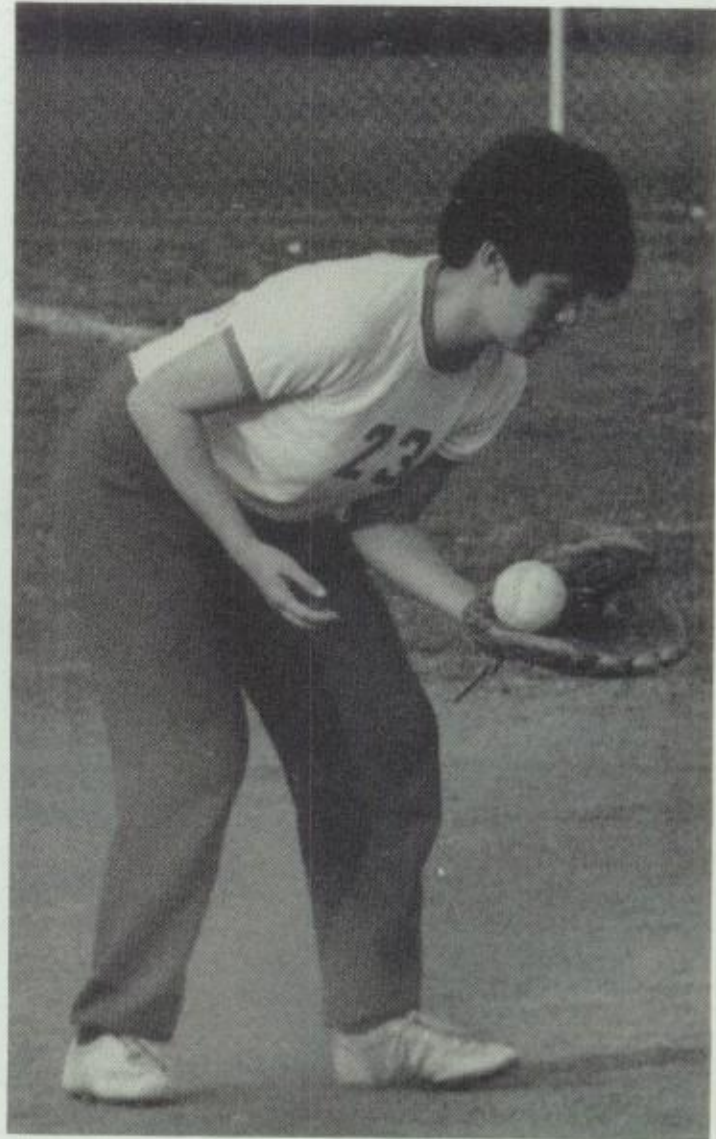

The relationship between the players and the coaches was surprising. A fellow player comments, "We were lucky to have such great coaches, they really know what they're doing."

With all the JV players returing to play varsity next year, with one exception, all look forward to a bright and promising season.

Soccer Shows Incredible Spirit

Surviving the soccer season was a difficult task this year. The team suffered from a great loss of players which was mainly due to injuries and grades. One of the players, Center Varougan Avedistio, chose to graduate early. Unfortunately, he took with him much of the scoring potential. Because of the lack of players, the soccer team adopted a defensive game plan rather than an offensive one. However, when the goals were needed, the team averaged less than one goal per game. With all of these difficult situations facing them, the Varsity Soccer Team finished league play with a disappointing 0-9 record. However, the team did experience a victory over Saint Paul High School in a non-league game with a score of 4-2. In order to accomodate the many field positions, the Junior Varsity and Varsity players had to be shuffled around. The JV team finished league play with a good 3-2-1 record. Apparently, the shifting of players did not affect their performance. Inspite the enormous amount of difficulty the coaches and the team faced this season, they displayed an incredible enduring spirit that was encouraging to all.

Dedicated Swimmers Make-Up Swim Team

Getting up at 5:30 A.M. and being in the pool by 6:15 A.M., regardless of weather conditions, was only part of the pain involved in swim team this year. The other part was being back in the pool during sixth period and after school. Being a member of the 1984 swim team required dedication beyond human belief. One swim team member was quoted as saying, "It's a heck of a lot of work. Every morning, when my alarm clock goes off, I wonder why I do it. But when I win a race I know. I guess the famous saying 'No pain, no gain' is really fitting in our case." These swimmers do not just work until they feel pain, they work until they feel agony. These swim team members are all winners. They have dedicated themselves to being the best possible swimmers.

Varsity Golf Starts Off Great

This year's Varsity Golf has had a powerful showing of 4-1 in non-conference play. Beating Canyon, Burroughs, Temple City and Harvard, their only loss so far is to Burbank by a single stroke. With such awesome veteran players such as Mike Schuetz, Bob Faieta and Tom Kruesopan in the lineup, Coach Al Sanelli has stated that this year's Golf team is the best in Glendale in recent years. With Pacific League games only a few days away, Coach Sanelli is confident that his team will have an impressive showing. Captain Tom Kruesopan is also confident, and in an exclusive Stylus interview, he predicted that Golf would take the Pacific League with a 9-1 record. If this seems a bit unreal, one should watch them practice. What's next? CIF playoffs.

Hard Work Pays Off For JVs

Junior Varsity Golf has started out with an impressive record of 2-0 over Burroughs and Arcadia. Coach Berghuis and Sanelli have worked many long hours to achieve this impressive record. It is apparent that hard work pays off. With such a talented lineup, it is easy to assume that many of today's J.V. members will end up on Varsity next year. But right now, everyone is looking forward to playing in Pacific League games and with hopes of doing as well as they are doing now, in non-conference play.

This year's Boy's Sophomore Track Team had a very, very successful season, sweeping away all opponents; showing no mercy.

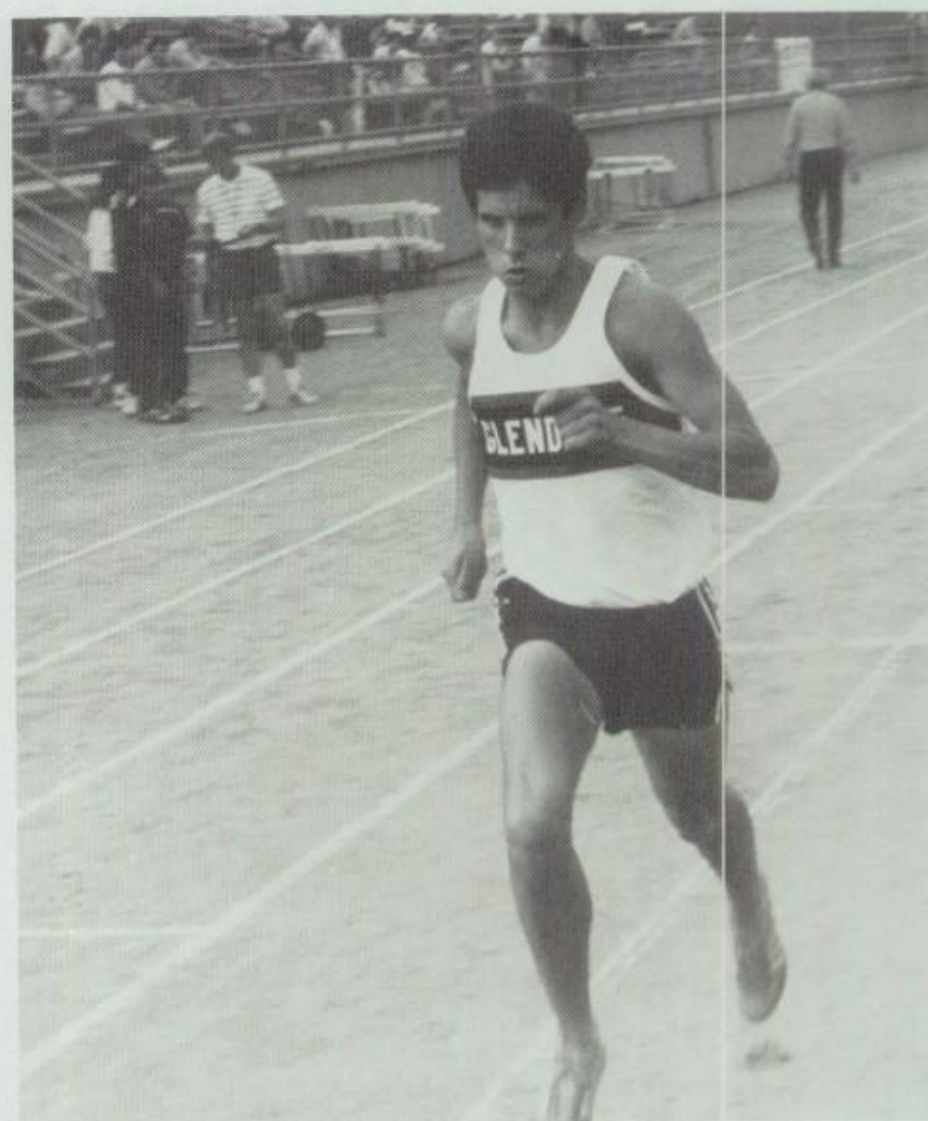

In addition to their prestigious record, they became Glendale City Champions for 1984 with an accumulative score of one hundred and seventeen points.

Competition between the high schools of Burbank, South Pas. and Burroughs resulted in a complete uproar for the defeated side; and a victorious slaughter for the Glendale Dynamiters.

Coaches, Mr. Broneer and Mr. Barnes are very proud of their sophomore team and expect a great Varsity team for the upcoming years. Good job! We're proud of you!!!

Varsity Track Sprint To Victorys

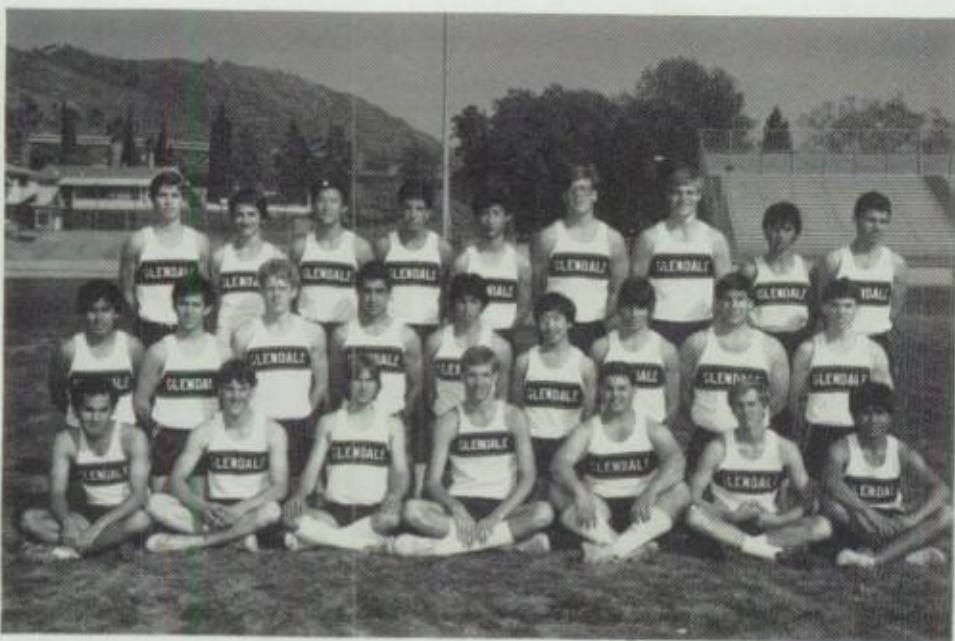

This years 1984 Boy's Varsity Track Team has been OUTSTANDING!!! They have easily managed to win every game. These wins were also won with remarkable scores which were won by many points. For example, The Burbank Glendale meet resolved in a 87-42; South Pasadena meet concluded with a 88-37 win; and against the Burroughs they managed a 94-32 win. In addition, these runners are also City Champions, Winning by a 11 points. Experience Causes Handicap

Despite the seasonal record, the Girls Track Team promises improvement for next year. With only six returning runners two of them seniors, has proven to be a handicap on Glendale's part. Yet, next years team will almost entirely consist of returning runners in long distance and short distance.

The hard work which is required of each individual must not be overlooked as well. These girls average about four miles a day, and quite often more. It not only takes dedication to want to do this, but also an inspiration to do your best. And with the help of coaches, Miss. Hern (long distance), and Mr. Broneer (sprint), the girls desire and want to work harder to achieve their dreams.

Enthusiasm Sparks Volleyball Season

The key to this year's volleyball team was enthusiasm. And all the players had it. The team consisted of mostly Juniors with one Senior. They use a 6-0 rotation, which is two setters and four hitters. Although they had fun in practice they were serious when it came to actual competitive games. They not only practiced in the gym but often went to the beach to play in other competitions. They all agree Razmik Ignatian's setting was the key to their offensive attack, and Paul Boutin was the "main man." Although relatively a young team, they are all looking towards next year for a better season.

The JV volleyball team consisted of two freshmen and the rest sophomores. Their main hitter is Ken Chong. Like the varsity this JV team is improving each day and hopeful about their varsity years yet to come.

Inexperience Does Not Affect Talent On Tennis Team

Talented, but inexperienced is how Coach Keith sums up this year's tennis team. His best players were Sophomores and Freshmen. He had only one Senior on the team. His number one player was Ho Choi and his number two was Mike McHale whom Coach Keith describes as a "fresh prospect." As of March the team was 2-0 and 3-2 over all.

This was Coach Keith's first year of coaching tennis. He applied his same coaching style on this outdoor court as he did on his indoor court-intense practice with a certain degree of fun. He feels for a tennis player you need to have a combination of physical talent, good attitude and strong desire to play. He says this sport is difficult in that it is an individual sport, rather than a team sport where you can rely on the other members. The players were all enthusiastic and are looking forward to next year.

GHS Badminton: Birdies Soar Toward Success

The Varsity and Junior Varsity Badminton teams were very optimistic about the upcoming season. Their season has not officially started. However, the first tournament that Glendale High participated in was a success with the leading four varsity players sweeping away the victories in all the categories they entered. For the Varsity team, the top four male and female players were James Huang, Quentin Hugh-Sam, Devra Brewer and Tina Sproul. With these exceptional players, the Varsity team was headed for unlimited victories in the future matches.

The Junior Varsity team was also looking toward the future with enthusiasm. Some of the top Junior Varsity players included Long Trinh, Yuki Yamane, and Kang Kim.

Overall, the strong singles teams along with the rest of the teams, were an explosive, powerful, and unbeatable team that had become a custom at Glendale High School.

Long prepares to smash.

 The Weston Development

Help our colleges cope with inflation.
 The money you give may decide whether
 I'm to be or not to be.

Hamlet and Gertrude and Macbeth have died a thousand deaths upon a thousand stages since my pen first gave them life.
 But nothing could kill them. Living time
 Now, what could steel and human frailty wrought by nature. On college campuses all over America
 As inflation forces colleges to spend millions of extra dollars on lighting, heating and maintenance, there will be less and less money for engineering and science — and literature.
 It's frightening to think about the sacrifices that may have to be made on college campuses in order to save money.

Valuable professors may have to be let go.
 Courses and perhaps even whole departments
 may be dropped.
 Research spending
 may be paid down to almost nothing.
 Hard-to-heat buildings, libraries, for example,
 may have to be shut down.
 If excellence in higher education is to survive, it needs your help.
 But even more, it needs
 you to give generously to a college education. So please give generously.

By helping to save
 my work from neglect you may prevent the greatest Shakespearean tragedy of all.
Help! Give to the college of your choice.

PERSONAL POTPOURRI

I have been trying to make lay-out deadlines for three years now. It will seem strange to start college next year and not have to think of anymore excuses for not having met my deadlines. I have enjoyed yearbook, but by far the most "interesting" job was Editor. It is one of those things you look back on ten years from now and are glad you did it; but at the time you think, "Why am I doing this?" (Ok Sara and Denise, you were right.) I am just kidding, if I had the choice I would do it all over agin.

The Stylus could never have been published with out this year's staff. To start at the beginning of the book, we had Bich-Nga Nguyen who was in charge of Activities. Although she could never remember the dates for which the activities were scheduled, she always managed to come through and finish her layouts.

Sara Smith designed the Color Activities. She did an excellent job considering this was her first year on staff, and I asked her to completely re-do the color section within a month and a half. It really looks nice. I think it will be the most organized Sara will ever be. Sara also worked on the Jr. Prom, Patrons, and Potpourri. Remember the PTA meeting which took two (?) hours!

Cheryl Friedman was in charge of the SENIOR mugs. She wrote some beautiful copy which added a nice touch to this section. Cheryl also organized the Sophomore mugs. It was fun writing on the backs of all the little pictures, uh? Cheryl worked on Patrons and Potpourri also.

Ken Wang produced the Junior mugs section. He also did the Golf Team lay-outs. How many times did you go to Mr. Sanelli's room for copy, but always came back with a blank piece of paper and a punch drink?

Elizabeth Mogster and Jamie Venable did the Organization section. It was always hard to tell if those two were fighting or joking with each other. Elizabeth, while trying to finish Orgs. completed Track and Girls Basketball.

Nancy Roberts and Julie Giammarino worked on the Faculty pages. They completely re-did the format with a unique look. They had fewer pages to work with, but put together a successful design.

In the Sports department we had Keith Thompson and John Brydon. Keith was in charge of Water Polo, Cross-Country, Boys Basketball and Swim Team. Keith has the lucky job of being next year's Editor. Good luck Keith! John Brydon worked on the Football section.

Tracey Marquardt and Caroline Cate were in charge of ads. See Tracey, this section wasn't so bad! Having worked on this section last year I can sympathize with Tracey and Caroline. It is no fun having managers hang-up on you when you ask them if they would like to place an ad in our yearbook.

Our newest section was Closing Color. Bessie Mantas put this together. Remember all those slides Bessie? She did a beautiful job. Thank you for meeting that deadline, you put in a lot of extra time for that and it really looks nice. Bessie also worked on Mother/Daughter Dessert, Girls Tennis, and Girls Softball.

Eunice Ahn was our business manager. She helped keep all our finances in order. She also worked on the Badminton and Soccer pages. But her biggest job was calling and calling and calling Dunlap* Turney to schedule pictures to be taken.

Our staff "stripper" this year was Ratna Anagol. She did a nice job with all the line art work you see on the pages. You have to have a lot of patience to be able to put little black lines on cardboard and have them all be straight. Ratna was also in charge of the division pages. You can tell she worked on these pages because most of them say Ratna or Deepa Anagol.

Patty Mathieu was our photo coordinator. I do not envy her that job. I would not want to assign photo requests to the photographers, or put negatives in those sticky negative sleeves. But Patty was always good natured and made sure everyone got their prints.

Our staff cavemen and woman this year were Doug Adams, Julie Giammarino, Clark Peterson, Kevin Potter, and Randy Walton. Chris Prampin also was a big help first semester. Thanks Chris for all your time and effort. All the photographers used to like to take pictures and develop them. I don't know what happened. I guess I would be a little grumpy too if I had to spend fourth period in a dark room and keep sticking my hands in funny smelling liquids.

And last, but not least is Doc. I do not know how you do it Doc, but every year you manage a new staff and put out a really good book. Thank you for all your help and support. I wish you luck next year. Thank you again Doc for all three of my years on staff.

I would like to thank Paul Collins are yearbook representative for always being so calm when I was so worried about missing a deadline. And Dunlap* Turney, you really helped us out, thank you. You always came on time and rushed all our photos when we were behind. Thank you for all your patience with us. We really appreciate it more than you can know.

Personally, I would like to thank my parents for all their support and advice. You really helped me out when I was on the verge of complete panic. Thank you for helping me proofread the copy and putting up with lay-outs all over the living room. I love you both, thank you.

I truly believe Marcos Fernandez had the hardest job all year. He was the first person to see me after yearbook eachday. He listened to all my complaints and frustrations and cheered me up at lunch. Thanks for being so understanding! You are a terrific person, (hey honey) Thank You!!

Susan Spain

You didn't think I could spell it did you? I can spell in Spanish, I just can't speak it. You are such a sweetheart. I don't know what I would have done without your "HELLOS" in Spanish every morning. They really made my day. You better stay sweet or I will have to straighten you out. I hope you have a really special summer. Love ya, Jeanette Surrette.

SUPPLEMENT

Clark claws Mr. Dryden for the envelope.

Queen Carla Gasmen dances with her escort Greg McDonald.

CLOSE TO YOU

MAY 4, 1984

President Clark Peterson proudly crowns Queen Carla Gasmen.

On May 4, 1984, limousines of all colors, along with many other classic automobiles arrived at the Sheraton Grand Hotel in Los Angeles, the site of the 1984 Senior Prom. Couples elegantly dressed arrived for the reception at 7:30 where pictures were taken by Dunlap & Turney.

Close to 8:00, the prom was moved to the ballroom that was decorated in grey and pink. The tables, decorated with pink carnations, displayed the elegant program and favors. This year's favors were champagne glasses with the prom theme, "Close to You."

Dinner was served at 8:00. It consisted of salad, prime rib, vegetables, and fresh fruit tart for dessert.

After dinner, the music by Ace filled the room and people lost themselves in dancing.

At 11:00, the Senior Prom Court was announced. They were Kristen Beaton, Cara Collier, Tiffany Damron, Kim Haase, Carla Gasmen, and Carol McKinder. President Clark Peterson crowned the queen, Carla Gasmen.

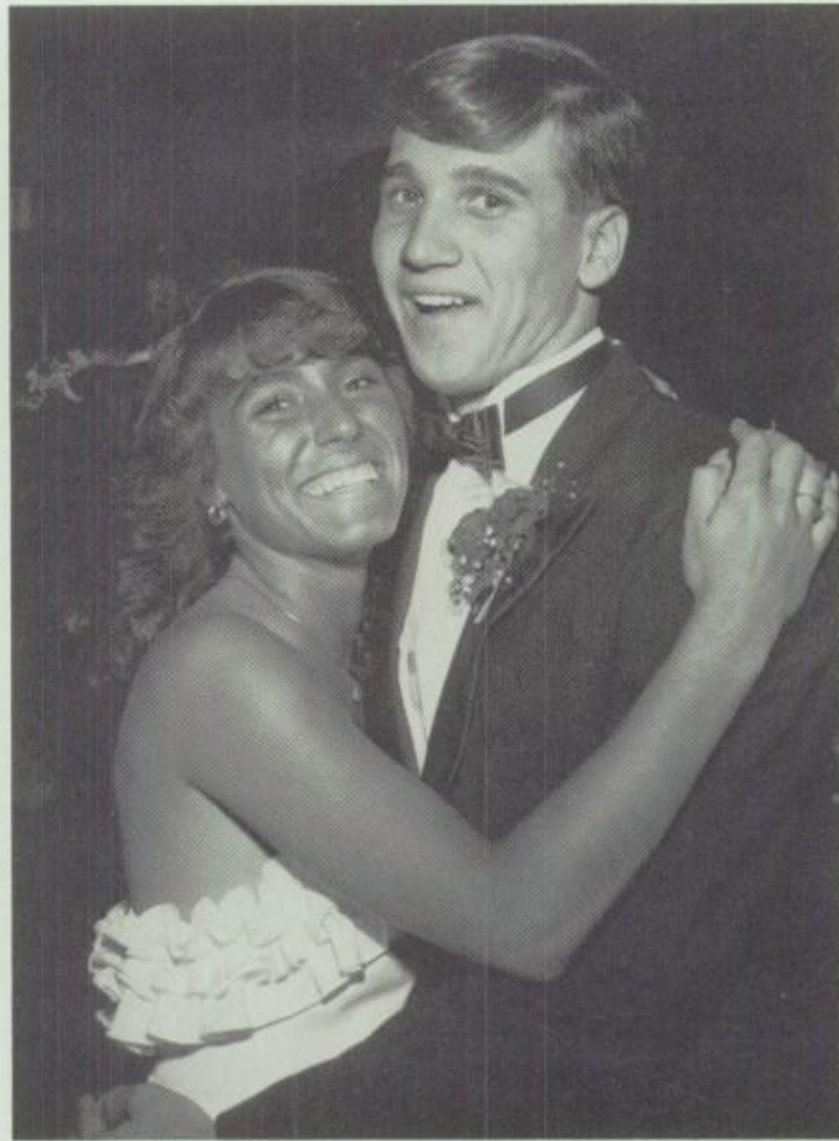

After much more dancing, the prom finally ended at 12:30. The night faded into a blissful memory. Everyone was in appreciation of President Clark Peterson, Advisor Dave Dryden, and the Senior Class Cabinet for putting on one of the best proms ever.

Annabel, Jamie, and John and their dates kick back.

Members of the senior cabinet: Chris Whytock, Patty Mathieu, Marie Madalora, Clark Peterson, Eunice Ahn.

Rick wouldn't look at me . . . then I used Ultra Brite!

Everyone Gets Down at The Shamrock Shake Down

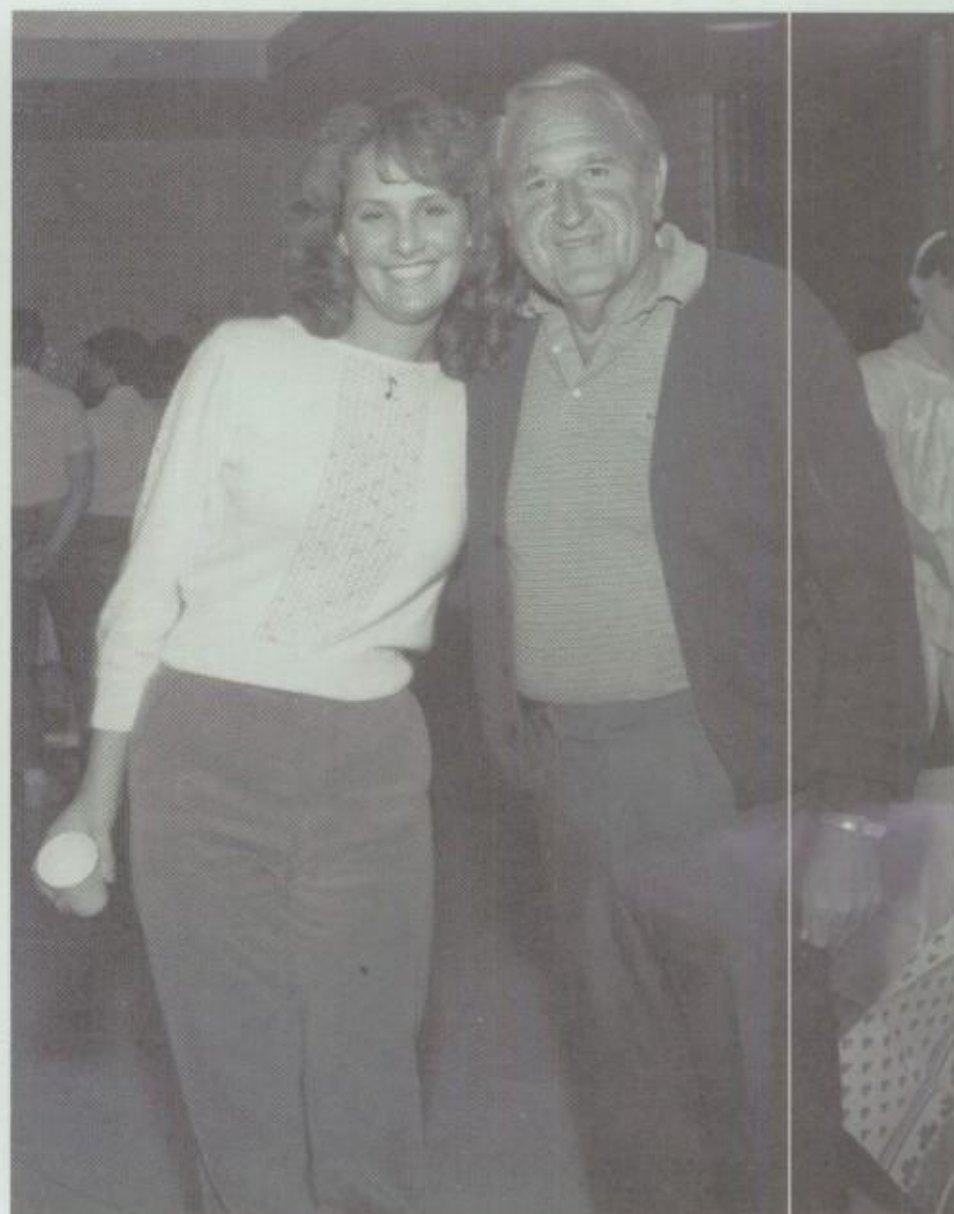

This year's traditional St. Patrick's day dance was held on its celebrated date, March 17. The sponsors of this year's casual "Shamrock Shake Down" were the ever charming drill teamers of Glendale High. With their special talent to help, these girls managed to work together and assist the head captains in decorating the drab appearance of our gym. Green and white streamers were drapped over the ceiling and gathered in the center, forming a spectacular canopy. Underneath this canopy was a dance floor covered with couples dancing to the fast moving music of the 80's. Captains: Patty Mathieu, Lesia Carvalho, and Darlene Goebel deserve an extra hand for organizing such a fun and frolic dance event which was meant for everyone.

Shaun Smith and Bryan Nesson, "Aren't you glad you use dial!"

Gisele Chan, one of the many charming drillteam girls, serves punch to a thirsty crowd.

Mr. Harvey and Jennifer Berry taking "five."

Daughters Dine With Dads En La Fiesta

On the 22nd of May, at 6:30 the Glendale High School cafeteria was transformed into an exotic and exciting Acapulco. The theme of this 1984 annual, Dad-Daughter Banquet was "Fiesta Con Padre." Everyone enjoyed the fabulous Mexican dinner from Barragan's. There was more than enough hot tamales, and delicious enchiladas for all the padres. The evening went on with lots of fun games and events. All the girls swing their dads in the Mexican hat dance and then they all hopped into the Mexican jumping bean event. Piñatas added more smashing fun for the padres and hijas, then for the main attraction—The Look-A-Like contest—where all the girls pulled their dads up on stage in this hilarious competition. The night was a GRANDE success. Special thanks to the Girls League for setting up such a fantastic and memorable party with the best dates any girls would ever have.

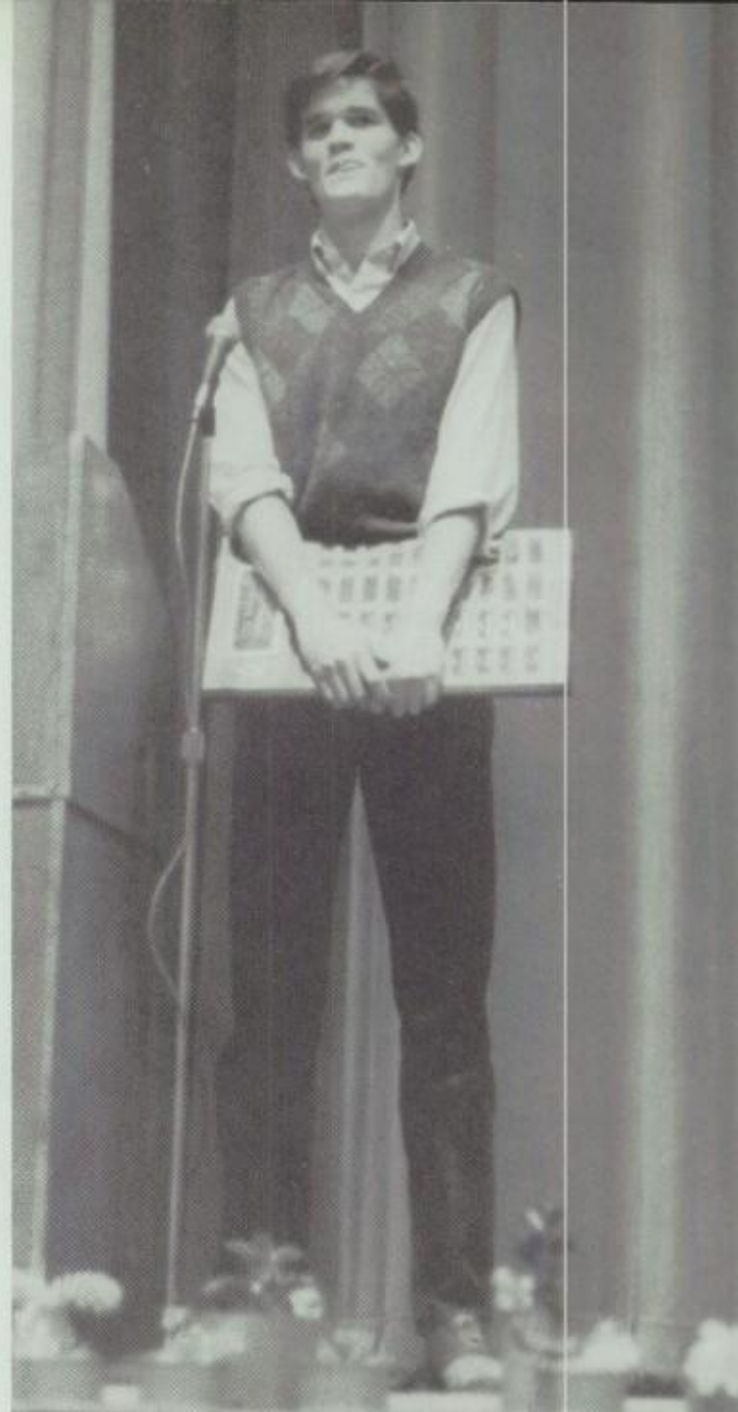

PNMA Carnival and Assembly One of the Highlights of the Year

Every year when the Pat Navolonic award or PNMA comes around, exceptional members of the graduation class are nominated by peers, who they feel deserve the honor. These nominated submit a resume about their high school life. Only 26 resumes were submitted this year, only 9 finalists were chosen instead of the traditional 10. The selection committee, headed by Sophia Hayes, took a great deal of their time in order to finalize the honorary PNMA recipients. They met during lunch to discuss resumes. The resumes were based upon academics, school activities, athletics, leadership and community involvements.

At the PNMA assembly, each candidate chose a quote, a song, and 10 slides best representing themselves. The award is presented to the most outstanding senior who best exemplifies the spirit of Pat Navolonic. This year PNMA recipient was Clark Peterson. His 3.83 G.P.A. makes him a CSF sealbearer and a NHS member. He's also a Bank of America award winner, youth correspondent for the News Press, senior class president, year-book photographer, and president of the Photograph Club which he has founded. A big congratulation to Clark!!!

The PNMA carnival was held on May 1st. CSF/NHS found the carnival to be great fun. Various clubs had booths and plenty of food, from Won Tons to snow cones. Again everyone would like to thank CSF/NHS for their fun carnival and to the selection committee for their work.

... and I would like to thank my MOM and DAD!!!

Bottom Row: Susie, Yang, Chris Whytock, Carla Gasmen, Fred Heyler, Cara Collier.

You'd better buy these Won Tons or else . . .

Show me that thing again and I'll cut it off!

Strawberry, Cherry, or ME!!

Cary bites the Big One.

Drill Team's, "Come Dancing" Steps to Success

On April 12th and 13th, in Glendale High's auditorium, the 1983-84 Drill Team Nitroetts, Varsity Short Flags and Songs "strutted their stuff" to this year's fantastic Drill Team Revue, "Come Dancing." On opening night, hearts fluttered and tension grew among drill teamers as the crowd entered into the auditorium. At the stroke of 8 o'clock, striding out with silver top hats and canes at their sides, the entire drill team performed with "a touch of class" to "Steppin' Out" by Fred Astaire. Between performances, the girls had approximately 3 minutes to change costumes and run back on stage before the curtain rose. One drill teamer exclaims, "It was almost like chaos in the dressing room downstairs, but we managed to survive." There was a total of 17 numbers and few of the numbers were "Motor Maniac" and "Hand Jive" performed by drill teamers, "Grey Matter" performed by the short flags and "Hawaii Five-0" performed by the songs. After intermission, the audience viewed the drill team slideshow. Following the entertaining slideshow was the exciting climax of the last number, "Don't Stop Me" sung by Queen. During the finale, assorted colored balloons and confetti fell down upon the audience. The audience, by this point were caught up in the atmosphere. GOOD JOB GIRLS!

Debbie Bartley tosses and twirls to "Grey Matter."

In perfect unison, the entire drill team performs to "Don't Stop Me."

A startling metamorphosis: from sweet drill teamers to provocative rockers.

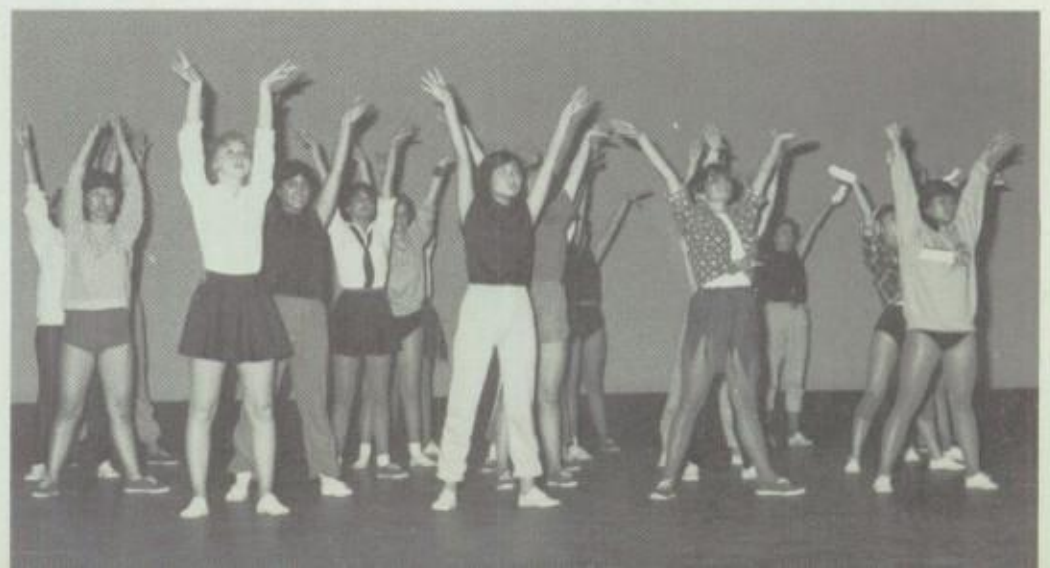

Patty Mathieu and Bessie Mantas say their senior goodbyes as they "Jump, Shout, Boogie."

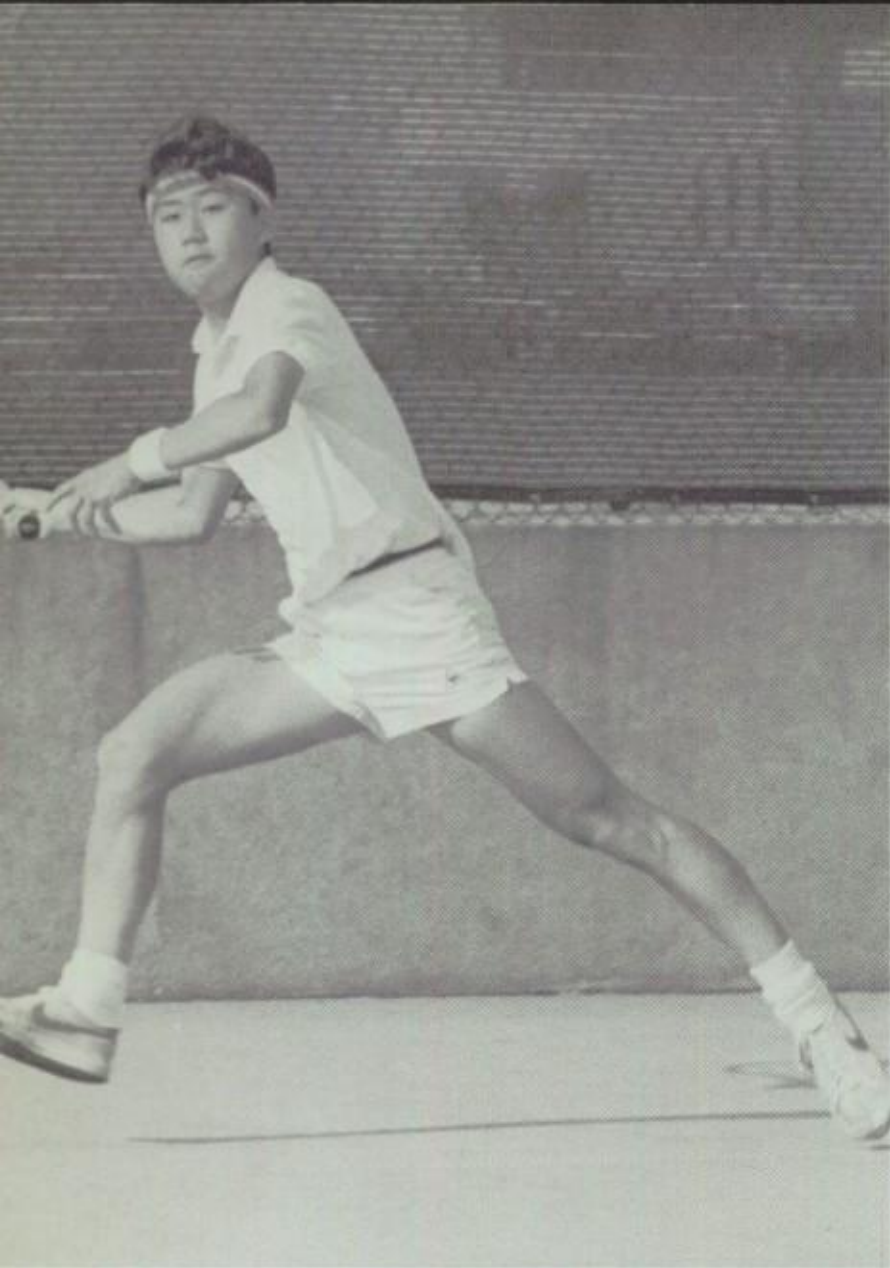

Chris Fear and Janet Sanabria refuel their energy to "Motor Maniac."

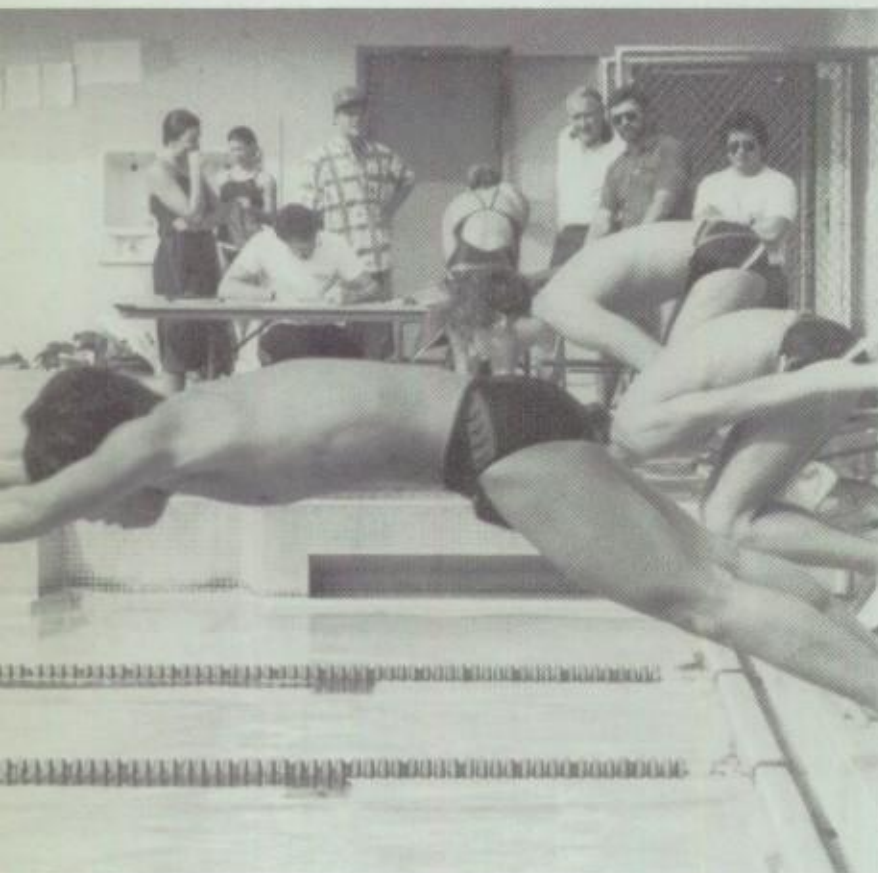

The songs are standing in their own shadow.

During one of their evening practices, drill teamers reach for the stars.

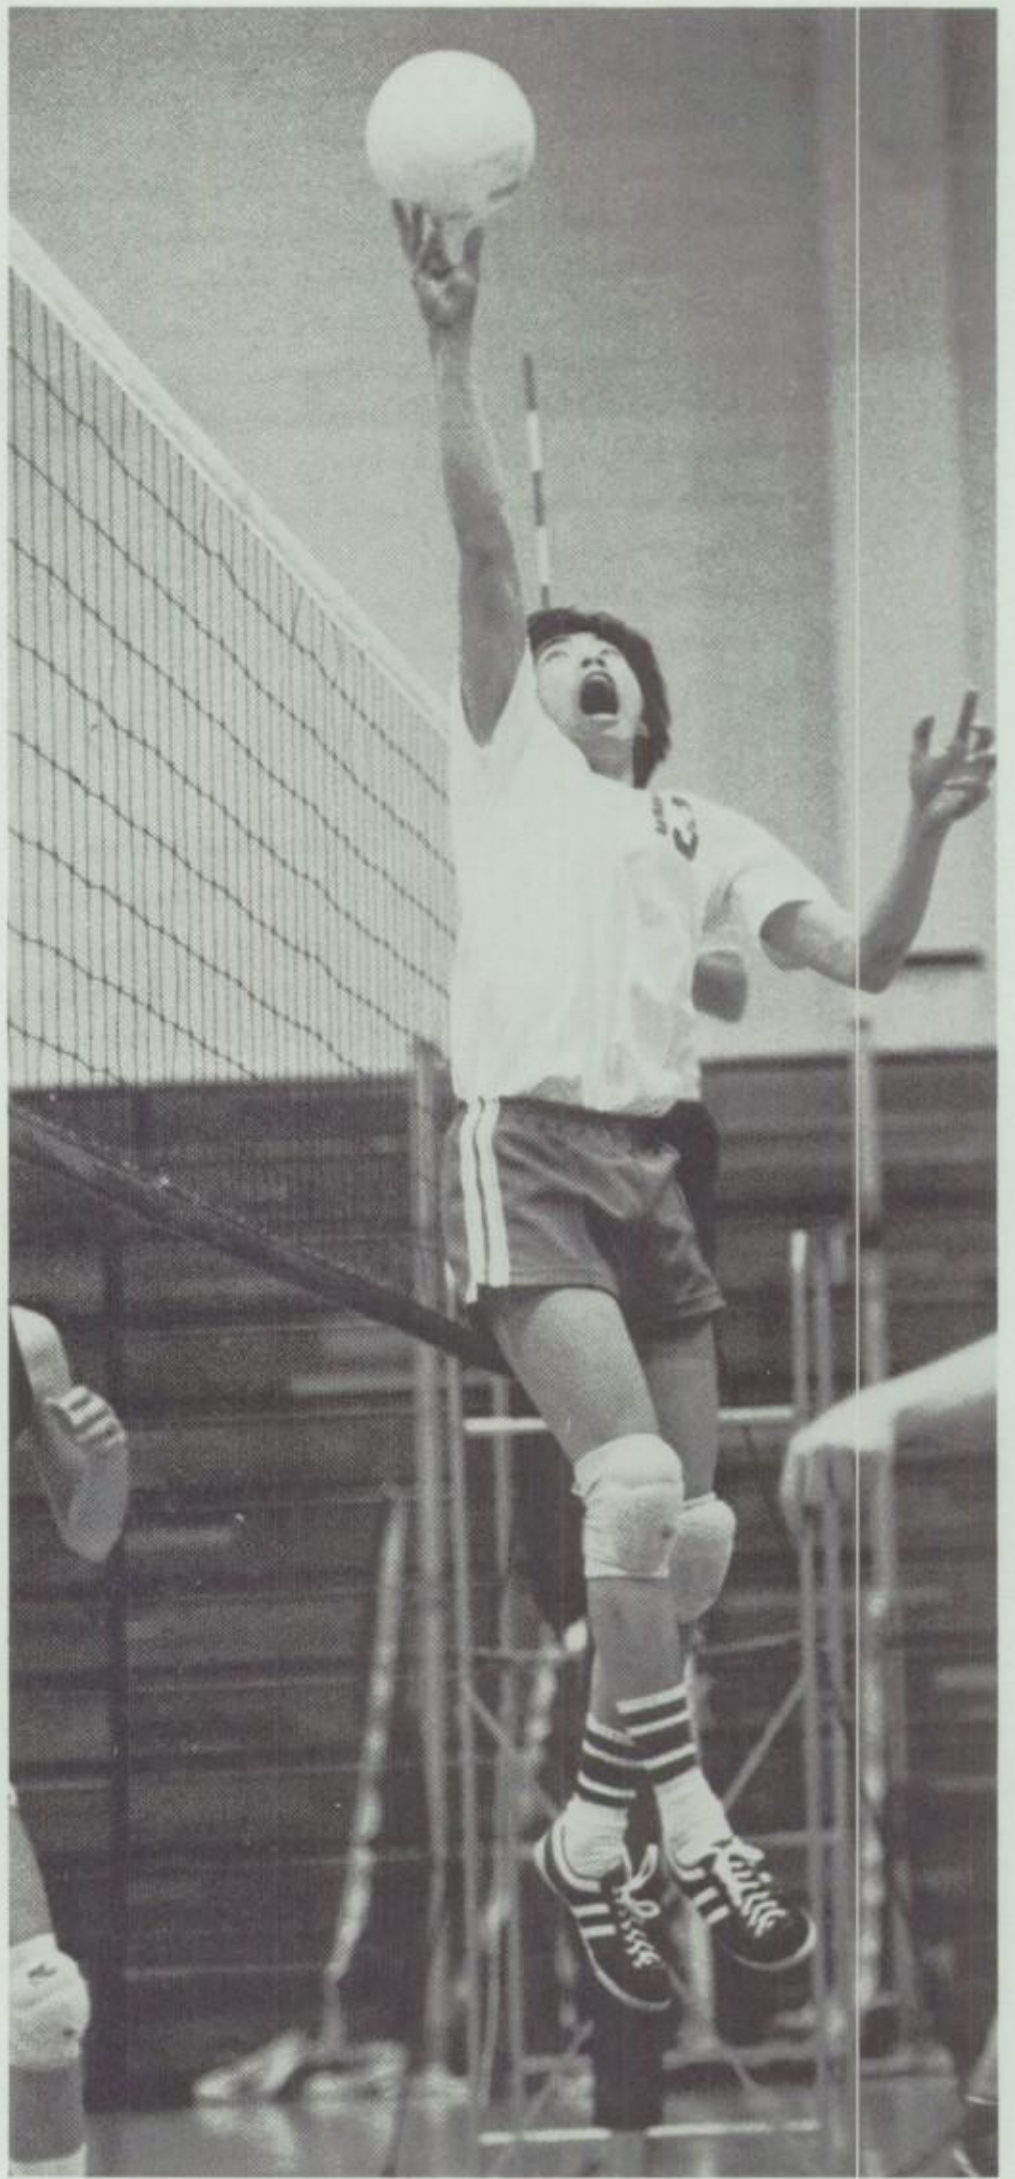

Tennis finished with a 9-6 record.

The swim team finished second in the Pacific league.

Volleyball ended with a 4-12 record.

The girl's basketball team finished with a 10-10 record.

Badminton went undefeated in league play.

Nitro Teams End Year With Strong Finishes

The badminton team easily took the Pacific league with an undefeated 10-0 record. They entered the CIF playoffs seeded second. The top singles players included James Huang, Devra Brewer, Tina Sproul, and Jane Huang.

The track team finished with a 3-2 record, third place in the Pacific league. They won the city meet between GHS, Hoover, and CV. Outstanding individual efforts from Kirk Hernandez, Pete Rosales, Dan Palma, Bob Mulcahey, and Carla Gasmen.

The volleyball team finished with a 4-12 record competing in the tough Central league. Coach Trotter said the team was hurt by lack of experience. They were led by veteran juniors Paul Boutin and Razmik Ignation.

The girl's softball team had a difficult time this year. They were constantly hampered by injuries. Fortunately the girls had fun throughout the season.

The tennis team finished the year with a 9-6 record, third in the Pacific league. Their record was good enough to get them into the CIF playoffs. The most consistent player, Ho Choi, will be back next year.

The swim team finished the year second in the Pacific league. They were led by captain Michelle LaBrie, junior Liz Sciaroni, and senior Bridget Black. Coach Bob Briggs said, "individually this was one of the best seasons we've had."

Baseball finished third place in the Pacific league.

Melisa, Brenda, Chris, and Wendy show their stuff

A Superb Performance— Actors Show Un “Change”- ing Talent In 3 One-Acts

AN INVITATION

A loss of innocence is the subject of Christie McCarthy’s one-act play, “An Invitation.” The play focuses in on the close relationship between four friends, and the hardships that they must face in entering the harsh impacts of reality.

INFINITE DEAL OF NOTHING

Mary Fournier Bill’s one-act play involves people and change. Three old women are caught up in their day-to-day routines. Felicity, the youngest, has been internally fighting to get herself out of the rut, but her sisters Prudence and Sobriety have always bullied her into staying. Then Felicity finds out that Amelia, her friend, is going to walk to Florida. She makes up her mind to go with her, and her sisters decide to go too.

Sobriety, Amelia, and Felicity scuff and rejoice (respectively) the coming of spring.

Nosy Miss Watson endeavors to convince Jill and Ian to take the apartment.

Bums on the pier enjoy life anyway.

THERE'S ALWAYS SPRING

Arthur Lovegrove's one-act concerns two young newlywed couples examining an empty apartment. However, one of these couples, the original inhabitants Alan and Brenda, is dead. They are ghosts neither seen nor heard by the living Ian and Jill. Ian initially rejects the apartment, assuming suicide to be the former occupants' form of death. But Mr. Withers, Miss Watson, and the lively—that is, persistent—spirits Brenda and Alan eventually lead him to dismiss his false notion and rent the apartment.

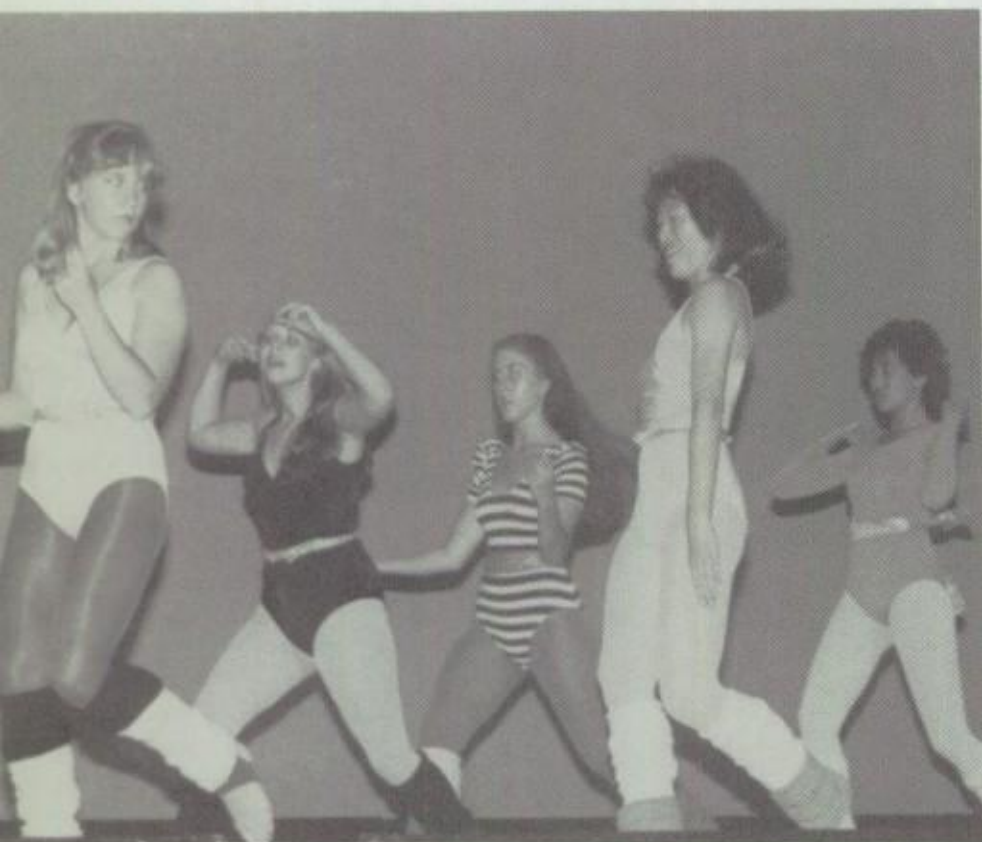

Dance Company Creates "Illusions"

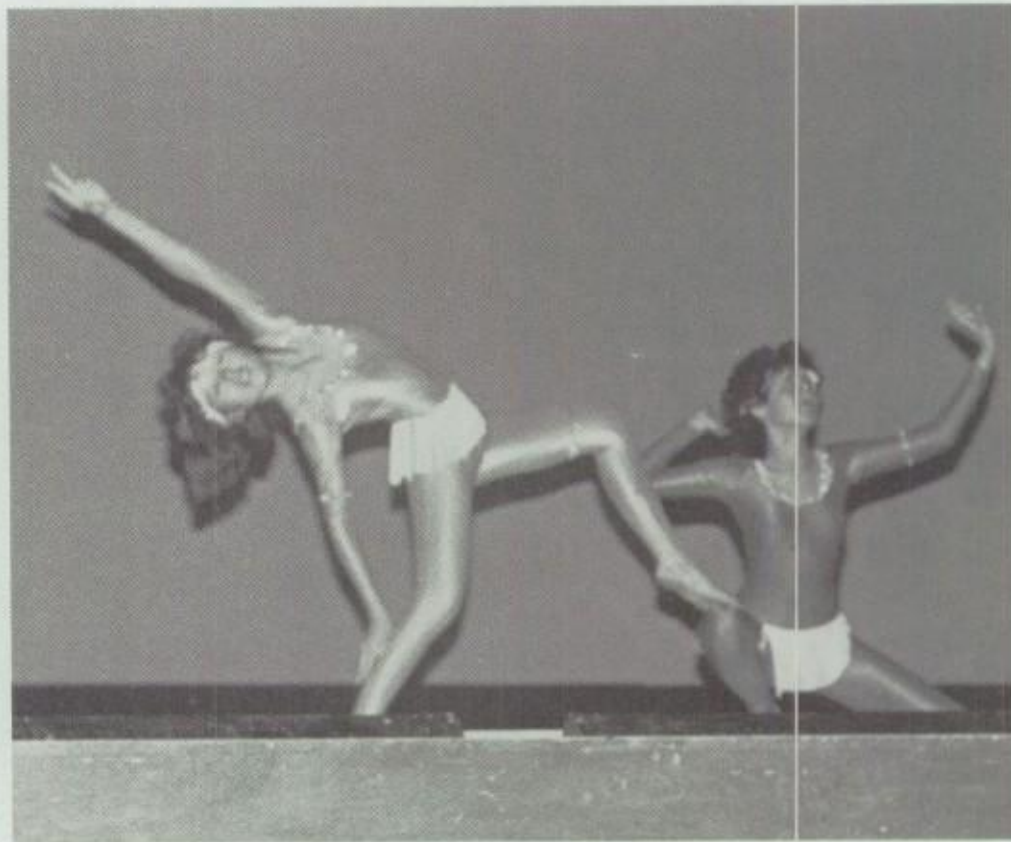

The Glendale High School Dance Company presented "Illusions," a variation of dancing, on May 11, and 12. This year's production was a great success, in spite of the poor attendance. The variety of dances included jazz, ballet, and breaking. This was a great change from the humdrum "modern dance" performances of previous years. One of the more popular dances of the evening was the breaking, performed to "Breakdance" by Irene Cara, choreographed by Tommy Gonzales. Other dancers performed to music by Rockwell, Rush, Lionel Ritchie, and the Police. Although the dancers' performance was very good, one of the elements of success was not present. The attendance was quite poor. The dancers noticed throughout the performances that "not enough people came." They felt that perhaps this was due to the lack of attention that The Explosion staff and Cabinet gave the performance. The most tragic event of the evening was the announcement made at the end of the performance. Mrs. Denise Lyles informed the audience that she would be unable to return to Glendale High next year. The girls are worried that the high quality of Mrs. Lyle's direction cannot be replaced. Hopefully, however, next year's Dance Company and spring production will match the excellence of this one, in spite of the great loss of a well-loved artistic dance director, Denise Lyles.

Hilda Bello, Judit Gabor, and Alina Monteagudo perform to "Somebody's Watching Me."

A dancing success!
